Demo Senate Gain Biggest In History

. . . '60 Political Prospects Being Reshuffled

By Douglas B. Cornell

Washington (AP) — Democrats battered down a final Republican bastion in the West and produced their biggest U.S. Senate gain in history from belated returns straggling in Wednesday night from Tuesday's election.

The 13-seat gain surpassed by one the previous Democratic record of 12 set in 1932.

The dwindling trickle of ballots from the hinterlands merely enlarged the dimensions of the most spectacular Democratic political triumph since the New Deal heydays. Late results tightened an already strengthened Democratic control of both Senate and House and tossed more Republican governors out of office.

And, with an assist they did not want from Nelson A. Rockefeller in New York, the Democrats brought about a sizable reshuffling of 1960 political prospects.

Ike Ignores 1960

President Eisenhower told an election postmortem news conference he wasn't even thinking about 1960 at this point.

But he said the people, whether or not deliberately, obviously voted for candidates "I would class among the spenders, and that is what I say is going to be the real trouble."

The President labeled a trend toward higher spending as a dangerous thing and promised to fight it. But he said he thought he would get along with the new Congress.

In an election that had many elements of the fantastic, it was Republican Rockefeller who turned in the greatest single victory. In the battle of the Bucks, one millionaire against another, Rockefeller pushed Democrat Averell Harriman out of the New York governorship.

Nixon Future Uncertain

At the same time, Rockefeller shoved himself in and Harriman out of the 1960 presidential picture and cast a shadow of uncertainty over the ambitions of Vice President Nixon. Until Rockefeller skyrocketed across the political firmament, Nixon apparently was coasting smoothly along toward the GOP presidential nomination 2 years hence.

Rockefeller insisted again that he has no interest in the

–Governors–

Demos Win 4 Seats

Washington (UPI) — Democrats chalked up a net gain of 4 governorships to grab their most decisive control of the nation's state houses in two decades.

They wrested governorships from Republicans in 3 states —California, Maryland, Nevada, New Mexico, Ohio, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming. They also held a lead in a close Nebraska race.

The Republicans swept out Democratic governors in Arizona, New York, Oregon and Rhode Island.

The Democrats, who went into the election with 29 governorships, pushed the total to a minimum of 33 when Democrat John Burroughs clinched victory over GOP Edwin L. Mechem in New Mexico.

Since '36

It was the most governorships in the Democratic column since 1936 when the total climbed to 38 in Franklin D. Roosevelt's landslide. The highest recent peak was 30 in the surprise Truman victory in 1948.

All told, Democrats won 23 of the 32 gubernatorial races and led in another—Nebraska. They had 10 holdover seats, including their victory in Maine's early bird election in September.

Republicans scored 3 victories to go with 6 holdovers.

The Democratic statehouse gains were certain to have a heavy impact on the presidential race in 1960. Governors usually control state delegations to national conventions and party-building statehouse patronage.

Nelson Rockefeller's victory in New York's "battle of the millionaires" put him in a strong position to challenge Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the GOP presidential nomination. The presidential aspirations of the loser, Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman, were shattered.

Loss Offset

But Democrats offset loss of the nation's largest state with a smashing victory in California, the 2nd largest. Democratic attorney Edmund G. Brown overwhelmed Republican Sen. William F. Knowland who also was knocked out of the presidential picture.

Democrats added two governorships to the two they picked up two years ago in the normally Republican Midwest where administration farm policies have met with widespread dissatisfaction.

Democrat Ralph Herseth defeated Republican Phil Saunders in South Dakota and Democrat Gaylord A. Nelson won over GOP Gov. Vernon W. Thomson in Wisconsin.

In Iowa, Democratic Gov. Herschel C. Loveless held his seat. Gov. George Docking became the first two-term Democratic governor in Kansas history.

Gothenburg, Neb. (AP)—Two Gothenburg men were electrocuted Wednesday when they came in contact with a 13,000-volt power line they were working on one mile east of here.

–Farm Vote–

Ike, Ezra Ag Views Undaunted

Washington (AP)—Voters in the great Midwest farm belt gave Republicans a bad time in Tuesday's election but President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson stuck by their farm policy.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference Wednesday whether he foresaw any change in the policy, as a result of the elections. He replied:

"No. I think that we will, on the contrary, I think we will struggle right square along the lines that we've laid out today."

Those lines, in brief, call for less government support to farm prices and less government control over production. Eisenhower has supported Benson in this in the face of Democratic demands for higher price supports.

Disappointed

Benson, who campaigned with more than 40 speeches in 30,000 miles of travel through 20 states, said he was disappointed but undaunted.

He said supporters and opponents of his policy in both parties won and lost, "indicating that agriculture was not a prime issue."

However, his critics were sure to read into the results a strong sentiment for overthrow of Benson's policies and even his ouster from the cabinet. They have tried to bring about these developments before, but have run into Eisenhower's firm support of his secretary.

Republicans lost House and Senate seats in such important farm states as Ohio, Minnesota, Iowa, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan. They failed to regain governorships in Kansas and Iowa, traditionall Republican.

Democrats in their campaigns pointed to farm prices ranging below levels of Democratic administrations. Benson retorted that the farm economy was improving.

In dairy areas, Democrats and some Republicans hit hard at Benson's reduction of government price supports for dairy products. Wisconsin, the No. 1 dairy state, re-elected Democrat William Proxmire to the Senate. Ohio, also important in dairy production, voted Republican John W. Bricker out of the Senate.

Starkweather: Caril In Room As Parents Slain

Convicted Killer's Testimony Disputes Claim Girl Was Held Hostage

By Del Harding

Surprise prosecution witness Charles Starkweather continues his testimony Thursday at 9 a.m. at Caril Fugate's murder trial in Lancaster District Court.

But Caril probably will be still reeling from her former boy friend's unexpected appearance Wednesday when in 2½ hours of testimony he completely disrupted her claim that she was his hostage on the winter murder spree which claimed 10 lives.

Starkweather, condemned to death in the electric chair but awaiting the outcome of an appeal to the State Supreme Court, shocked the courtroom full of spectators by saying:

—Caril was in the same room as he when he shot her mother, Mrs. Marion Bartlett, and knifed her half-sister, 2½-year-old Betty Jean Bartlett.

—Caril "watched television" while he put the bodies of her family in a chicken coop and abandoned outhouse behind her home at 924 Belmont Jan. 21.

—Caril woke him up the night of Jan. 25 to tell him two policemen were at the door. (She told them the family had the flu and they left.)

—That he, Starkweather, left the Bartlett home on several occasions beween Jan. 21 and Jan. 27 (when they left for Bennet) and that Caril stayed behind in the house, alone and not bound.

—That after stopping at Tate's Service Station 8 miles south of Lincoln on U.S. 77 on Jan. 27 for gas, rifle shells and hamburgers, Caril complained the hamburgers "tasted like dog meat" and said "we ought to go back and shoot them."

—That he and Caril stopped at the C. Lauer Ward home at 2843 So. 24th Jan. 28 after he "told Caril to pick a place and she picked that one."

Court Order Given

Starkweather, who will be 20 the 24th of this month, was brought in to testify after presiding Judge Harry A. Spencer had approved County Atty. Elmer Scheele's request for a court order requiring his appearance. This is necessary under state law to have a prisoner in a penal institution testify.

After Starkweather finished testifying Wednesday afternoon defense Atty. John McArthur requested time to prepare his cross examination. Judge Spencer granted the request and McArthur will begin his questioning of Starkweather when court convenes Thursday morning.

McArthur said his cross examination probably would take at least one hour.

Bryan's Granddaughter Wins Seat In Congress

From Press Dispatches

Los Angeles — Mrs. Rudd Brown, 38, granddaughter of Nebraska's 3-time presidential candidate William Jennings Bryan, Wednesday made good her bid for seat on California's congressional delegation.

An "Adlai Stevenson" Democrat, Mrs. Brown will be one of a record 18 women in the next Congress. She is the daughter of the late Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde and the wife of a California Institute of Technology geochemist.

Mrs. Brown, a Democrat, won by a slim margin over the Republican incumbent, Edgar Hiestand.

Her mother was twice elected to the House from Florida—in 1928 and 1933. Her famous grandfather represented Nebraska in Congress from 1891 to 1895.

All the women who will serve in the 86th Congress are in the House except GOP Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

MRS. RUDD BROWN

The only Democrat to be unseated Tuesday was also a woman, Mrs. Coya Knutson, Minnesota representative. Her loss possibly was caused in part by her much-publicized difficulties with her husband and his "Come home, Coya" pleas.

Only Big Absentee Switch Could Change Final Count; Vic Waits

McCook Gives School Head Triumphant Welcome

By Don Walton

Nebraska's 29th governor (barring a surprising 2 to 1 switch in absentee voter sentiment) pointed to televised speaking appearances and the tax issue Wednesday as the chief ingredients of his stunning Election Day triumph.

Democrat Ralph Brooks, stopping briefly in Lincoln enroute to a triumphant home town welcome at McCook, also tossed in a word for the helping hand of State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

The McCook educator carried his campaign into the homes of televiewers in metropolitan Omaha and Lincoln during the final two weeks of his uphill struggle against two-term Gov. Victor Anderson.

It apparently paid off.

Statewide election totals showed Brooks holding a lead varying from barely more than 2,000 votes to some 3,200 votes.

The Associated Press said it was Brooks 207,487; Anderson 204,225 with all but the important mail votes counted.

United Press International totaled up a 207,088 to 204,979 Brooks' victory.

But look at this: Brooks' margin in Douglas County topped 6,000. His lead in Lancaster was nearly 3,500.

And in Scotts Bluff County, home of Carpenter, Brooks held a 2,400-vote margin.

Tops In 34 Counties

The Democrat carried 34 of Nebraska's 93 counties.

Brooks, 60, told newsmen that Anderson was somewhat a victim of circumstances created by "a tax mess" which he inherited.

But, at the same time, the fiery Democrat said he could find no excuse for Anderson's "lack of enforcement" of tax statutes.

On Carpenter, Brooks noted that "he made them (the voters) tax-conscious. He's fantastic, and you may quote me."

As to future Brooks-Carpenter co-operation, the peppery Democrat said, "I'm not with him and I'm not against him."

Waiting Decision

Brooks refused to discuss actions he would take as governor until the result is settled. That won't come officially until Dec. 1, and a recount might still follow that date.

The final decision could well rest on a December recount in a race so close now that a single vote change in each of Nebraska's 2,106 precincts would give Anderson a third term.

Brooks left no doubt however that the iron hand which he has used in directing school affairs at McCook (and on other assignments) would be felt at the Statehouse if he wins.

"I didn't expect to find myself in this situation today," the heir-apparent confessed when questioned about his reaction to the stunning victory.

As for Gov. Anderson, 56-year-old Lincoln hardware man, bank president, former state senator and Lincoln mayor, he means to go about the business of being governor, content to await the mail vote's final decision.

"The vote is so close I do not care to make a definite statement at this time," he told The Star.

Meanwhile, with the margin hanging on less than one per cent of the total vote, the mail vote looms in the background, laden with the verdict.

A Big Grin From Brooks

Democrat Ralph Brooks flashes a big smile at election returns in The Star that indicate he'll move from the McCook school superintendency to the governor's mansion in January unless upset by mail ballots. (Star Photo.)

Demos' Ag Background Upset Key

Two Democrats steeped in agricultural backgrounds swept aside Republican congressmen whose service totaled 23 years to give the state an even political split in its 4-man delegation to the U.S. House of Representatives.

Young state legislator Don McGinley from an Ogallala ranching family knocked out 8-term Republican Rep. A. L. Miller, who had a record of brushing Democratic opposition aside with ease throughout his 16 years in the House from the Fourth District.

And Larry Brock, Wakefield cattle feeder and statewide REA leader, won by more than 10,000 votes against Rep. Robert Harrison, who nosed out Brock in the mail count two years ago in the Third District.

The changes left Republican Phil Weaver of the First District as dean of the House delegation from Nebraska. He won a third term with a 6,000-vote margin over Democrat Clair Callan.

Renamed in the easiest Congressional victory was Omaha's incumbent Republican Glenn Cunningham, who swamped Democrat Francis Casey of Plattsmouth by 30,000 votes in the Second District.

Incumbent Sen. Roman Hruska moved into a commanding position with the Nebraska Republican Party by his win over Frank Morrison, though his 46,000-vote plurality was only about half the margin by which he was elected to the Senate in 1954.

Mail Pouch Important

It appears the mailman will play the most important role ever in Nebraska's statewide politics with the 1958 absentee vote apparently holding the key to whether Nebraska's next governor will be Republican or Democratic.

Estimates on the number of absentee ballots run from 5,000 to 10,000, with Secretary of State Frank Marsh guessing there are about 7,700 mail votes to be counted. There were 28,000 in 1956.

Under Nebraska law, county canvassing boards will meet Friday, and if all mail votes are returned in an individual county, that board can tally its votes.

If all absentee ballots have not been returned, the county board then must adjourn to the second Friday after the election, Nov. 14.

Since all mail votes must be in the county office by 10 a.m. Nov. 13, the county boards over the state will have their totals by Nov. 14.

Each county must send its vote total to the Secretary of State's office by Nov. 24, and the State Canvassing Board meets Dec. 1 to tally the votes and declare the official results of the Nov. 4 election.

Lincoln Star Special

McCook, Neb.—Hundreds of McCook residents swarmed the McCook airfield late Wednesday afternoon to greet Nebraska's apparent upset gubernatorial winner, Ralph Brooks, and escort him on a triumphant downtown parade to his home.

Greeted by McCook's mayor, members of the city council and the McCook High School band, Brooks and his wife landed at this Red Willow County seat of 7,678 in a private craft piloted by John T. Harris.

Superintendent of McCook schools and president of McCook Junior College, Brooks would be Nebraska's 7th Democratic governor and the first elected since 1938.

Wheel Tax OK Spurs K-L One-Way Action

Resurfacing Also Set For Early Fund Use

By Virgil Falloon

Development of K and L as a one-way pair and some resurfacing of badly-worn streets will be the initial projects under the city's $16.5 million street improvement program, Mayor Bennett Martin said Wednesday.

Martin hailed the 2-to-1 margin for the wheel tax as a vote of confidence in the street program proposed by the city administration.

Actually, K and L widening and resurfacing plans between 21st and 16th have been on the drafting boards for some months awaiting the necessary funds.

Wheel tax revenue, which begins Jan. 1, and gas tax allocations will permit the city to make a firm commitment for the approximately $500,000 federal matching funds available to the city.

The wheel tax is expected to produce $240,000 annually while the city receives about $400,000 in gas tax and license fee allocations.

$1.1 Million Project

Development of K and L from 21st to 9th has been programmed as a $1.1 million project on a 50-50 matching basis of federal and city funds.

Complete unofficial returns of the city's 104 precincts showed the wheel tax issue carried 22,541 to 12,216.

It garnered a majority in 91 precincts, some by 3 and 4-to-1 margins. It failed to carry in only 13 precincts, largely located on the fringe areas of the city.

The Opposition

Major areas voting against the vehicle tax were Havelock, Belmont, the Ag College district, the district between 4th and 8th, O to South, and the extreme southwest corner.

The voter-adopted measure provides for a tax of $4 on passenger cars to a $20 maximum on the heaviest trucks as compared with the original $5 and $10 measure, enacted and then repealed by the Council.

The street user's tax for the city will be collected by the county in connection with annual auto registration and tax period from Jan. 1 to Feb. 1.

No Other Priorities

The Council has not designated any priority to the other 57 projects, including 11 major developments and 46 resurfacing projects totalling 32.8 miles.

However, key projects include the proposed northeast radial, widening O from 27th to 63rd, Randolph, Holdrege, and the proposed K street viaduct.

C. O. Blanchard, an opponent to the wheel tax, said, "The people of Lincoln can now truly call the comprehensive street plan their own. I desire the wishes of the people."

Bauer, Fenton Get Sanitary Board Posts

Democrat Hal W. Bauer, practicing attorney, and Republican D. T. Fenton, manufacturer's representative, were elected to the two open posts on the Sanitary District No. 1 board.

Bauer topped the 4-way race with 18,427 votes and Fenton followed with 16,603.

GOP incumbent Neil C. Vandemoer, present board secretary, trailed the pack with 14,611 as another Democratic challenger, Robert C. Newell, a Lincoln homebuilder, ran third with 15,062.

The uncounted mail and absentee ballots estimated at 825 are not expected to change the relative standings.

Mercury Still Uncertain Where To Settle Down

The weather continues to seesaw from cold to warm in Nebraska as high temperatures are forecast from 50 to 60 Thursday.

Colder readings were reported throughout the state Wednesday as the Lincoln Air Force Base recorded a high of 53, while Sidney had a low of 17.

Scottsbluff reported rain Wednesday.

Lincoln recorded a high mercury reading of 51 with a low of 39.

County Gets 1st Demos In 30 Years

Two Democrats shattered the 30-year Republican grasp on the Lancaster County Courthouse.

Complete unofficial precinct returns showed that Democrat Carl S. Hartman, 46, unseated County Clerk J. B. Morgan, Republican incumbent for the past 36 years, by a vote of 21,242 to 18,342.

Ralph E. Harlan of Hickman, the other apparently successful Democrat, racked up a slender 790-vote margin over Republican Jack Schuetz in the 2nd district county commissioner race.

Complete unofficial tally was 19,613 to 18,823. While a possible 826 absentee and mail ballots will not be counted until Nov. 14, veteran political observers doubt if they will be sufficient to overcome the trend.

Demo Treasurer In '23

The last Democrat to hold a county office was A. E. Sutherland, who held the treasurer's post from 1923 to 1927.

There is no record of any Democrat on the County Board as far back as 1918.

However, several contemporaries of the late T. J. "Jeff" Hensley, who served as city councilman from 1904 to 1921, remember him as a Democrat during his days in the non-political city post.

Ran As Republican

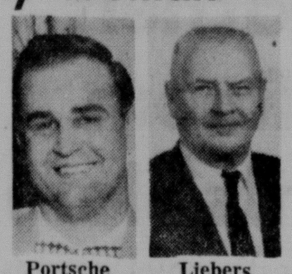
Hensley ran for the County Board on the Republican ticket in 1920 and was re-elected to subsequent terms.

Kenneth Bourne, GOP nominee in the 3rd district County Board post, defeated Democratic challenger C. A. Bates by 21,532 to 16,551.

County Commissioner Rollin Bailey was not up for election in the 1st district.

Sens. Portsche, Liebers Win; Mrs. Orme Only Woman

The next Legislature's only woman member was elected by Lancaster County Voters, who also returned two state senators for another two-year term.



Portsche

Liebers

Mrs. Orme

Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme, former city councilwoman for 10 years, bested Don Devries, manager of Associated Industries of Nebraska, by 681 votes in unofficial returns.

It was the second try for Mrs. Orme, who missed in 1956 by only 19 votes.

The Orme-Devries race in the 20th District was nip and tuck with Mrs. Orme pulling away at the finish.

Unicameral veteran Otto H. Liebers was returned for his 5th term from the 18th District by defeating Chris Kuhner, former county commissioner.

Stanley Portsche was re-elected to a second term in the 19th District, winning handily over his challenger, Leo N. Bartunek.

Demo Senate Gain Biggest In History

1960 GOP presidential nomination.

It was an election in which the Democrats refused to yield a single Senate seat while toppling 13 Republicans. The last GOP seat tumbled in the last Senate race to be settled, in Wyoming. Sen. Frank A. Barrett, a conservative Republican, was nosed out by Democrat Gale W. McGee, a young history professor. McGee is formerly of Norfolk, Neb.

In all the scores of senate and house contests, the GOP managed to unseat one lone Democrat. They nudged a blonde former schoolmarm, Rep. Coya Knutson, out of politics—something her husband couldn't do in a widely advertised family squabble.

Rep. Hays Loses

One other Democrat fell in the balloting, but not at Republican hands. Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas, a lay leader of the Baptist Church and 8-term veteran in Congress, lost to a powerful write-in campaign based on the racial issue. Dr. Dale Alford, a Of course, the Democrats didn't have much of a Republican target to shoot at in Dixie—9 House seats. They took only one of these, in Kentucky.

GOP Badly Hurt

A battle on the right-to-work issue and a personal feud strong segregationist on the Little Rock school board, ran as an independent and took Hays' measure with an apparent assist from Gov. Orval Faubus. Hays has tried to follow a middle course on the school segregation problem.

Somewhat strangely, Republicans fared better in the South than any other region proportionately, although the integration issue had been expected to hurt them there. damaged the GOP in California—and made the state a sort of cracked springboard for Nixon to use in a Presidential try in 1960.

A jovial, powerful Democratic vote getter emerged from the California governorship victory of Edmund G. "Pat" Brown. Brown's rout of Sen. Republican Leader William F. Knowland not only dashed Knowland's own 1960 Presidential aspirations but also provided incentive for stronger talk of a Presidential bid for himself.

Down to defeat with Knowland went the man he elbowed out of another try for the statehouse, Gov. Goodwin J. Knight. Knight switched reluctantly to the race for the Knowland Senate seat, and fell before Democrat Clair Engle, a colorful country lawyer and congressman who flies his own plane and quotes Shakespeare by the ream.

Democrats shook loose a trio of Old Guard Republicans in Senate races in Ohio, Wyoming and Nevada—and ousted Republicans from the governor's mansions as well.

The station was one of the first he had originally passed.

Victory By Brooks Would Probably Empty Capitol Of Appointive Officials

By Betty Person

Speculation on who will be leaving the Statehouse, if the final vote, including absentee ballots, shows Democrat Ralph Brooks to be governor of Nebraska, sounded like a who's who in state government as observers totted up the score on department heads who hold their offices by virtue of Republican Gov. Victor Anderson's appointment.

While none of the code department heads (those under the governor) talked flatly about resigning, it was generally believed that most of the officers would tender their resignations if Brooks holds onto his lead over Anderson.

Immediately to the foreground, and most frequently mentioned, were the names of State Engineer L. N. Ress and State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington.

Prime Target

Ress was a prime target in Brooks' campaign, and the office of State Engineer is filled by appointment of the governor, subject to approval of the Legislature.

The tax commissioner is appointed by the governor to a 6-year term, and Herrington has 5 years yet to serve on his present term, but most believed that he would resign.

Other code department heads who logically could be expected to resign include: Ed Hoyt, director of the Department of Agriculture and Inspection; Dan Jones Jr., director of the Department of Water Resources; Commissioner of Labor James Weasmer; J. F. McLain, director of the Department of Banking, and Insurance Department Director John Binning.

Board of Control

One member of the 3-man Board of Control will have to be named in 1959 when the appointment of Mrs. Catherine Martin expires, as well as members of the State Health Board whose terms expire, 3 Game Commission members whose terms will expire in the next two years, two State Normal Board members, and the Liquor Commission.

Add to this the agency heads such as State Purchasing Agent Tom Coffey, Department of Aeronautics Director Rolland Harr, Motor Vehicle Department Director Dale Rogers, and a myriad of boards and commissions such as the Water Pollution Control Council, Nebraska Brand Committee, State Building Commission, Board of Educational Lands and Funds and the Nebraska Workmen's Compensation Court.

Bingo Wins By 4-3 Margin

Backers of bingo piled up a substantial 4-3 win Wednesday as nearly-complete returns on the constitutional amendment were compiled.

With 2,099 of the state's 2,106 precincts reporting, 206,322 votes had been counted for the amendment and 145,160 against it.

Voters also endorsed 6 other amendments, but turned thumbs down on two: a proposal to hike state legislators' salaries and an amendment that would have allowed municipalities to float revenue bonds to build industrial facilities for lease to private business.

Of top interest among the other 6 passed were one providing for juvenile courts and another which would allow the legislature to determine the management of state institutions. The latter amendment leaves the legislature free to abolish the State Board of Control if it wishes.

Also approved were provisions for a change in the taxation of public utility districts, allowing state officials to reside outside the capital city, allowing legislation to cancel uncollectible back taxes to clear titles of property, and allowing the legislature to provide for the succession to the governorship if the lieutenant governor and speaker of the legislature are unable to serve.

Bingo Amendment Stirred Up Biggest Controversy

The bingo issue perhaps raised the most controversy among amendments presented to the voters.

Among the principal bingo supporters were the Nebraska Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW), and the Fraternal Order of Eagles (FOE).

"Well, we won and we're happy," Gail Miller of Omaha, bingo chairman of the FOE told The Star. "We see no reason why bingo should not be accepted by many people."

Brought Out Vote

He said the great amount of publicity concerning bingo for Nebraska perhaps "did more than anything" to bring out the heavy balloting on the issue.

Frank H. Short of Lincoln, immediate past VFW commander, and one of the leaders of the bingo petition campaign, said, "I was happy to see it pass, naturally."

"The issue carried much better than I had anticipated. Just what the Legislature will do now, I couldn't say. It will require a great deal of study," he said.

Robert Lowe, adjutant of the state VFW, is ill at a Lincoln hospital and could not be reached for comment.

Led By Churches

Most of the opposition to the bingo issue was led by Nebraska churches.

The Rev. Carroll Lemon, executive secretary of the Nebraska Council of Churches, said, "This was the will of the voters. I think this was a good election in every way, although I was somewhat disappointed in seeing that people voted heavier for bingo than for some of the more important issues.

'. . . They Certainly Did'

"We felt that people should express themselves on the bingo issue, and they certainly did," he said.

The Rev. Mr. Lemon said 45,000 leaflets were distributed through individual churches throughout the state urging opposition.

Dr. Frank A. Court, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church in Lincoln said "I think this was a mistake." He said the amendment's wording must have been confusing to Nebraska voters.

Juvenile Court Backers Hail Amendment

Backers of the amendment authorizing the Legislature to establish a separate juvenile court expressed satisfaction on the success of the amendment which was accepted by a 130,000-vote margin.

Dr. Frank A. Court, pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church in Lincoln and chairman of the city's juvenile crime prevention committee said "I think it's very much needed and a well deserved advancement in the state."

He pointed out, however, that the Legislature would have the final voice in the establishment of such a court.

Mrs. E. C. Torgeson, director of the Nebraska committee for the juvenile court enabling act, was "overwhelmed" with the backing the amendment received, she said. "We feel it's another step in the right direction for disciplining children," she added.

On the other side of the fence, District Judge E. G. Kroger of Grand Island, who was opposed to the amendment, said he feels that "Juvenile courts cannot reform juveniles." He added that counties were having pretty good success in juvenile probation.

8 Blind To Take Red Cross Course

Eight blind Nebraskans will begin a Red Cross "Care of the Sick and Injured" course on Thursday at the Lancaster County Red Cross office.

The home nursing course which will run until the Christmas holidays, is one of several activities the 8 persons are taking in conjunction with a rehabilitation program of the State Department for the Blind.

Miss Rosemarie Moravec, a registered nurse, will be the class instructor.

The Great Upset

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Many years are gone and there are many more to come but Nebraska's history will never contain a chapter more stirring than the account of the 1958 political campaign and election. There are so many thoughts to be expressed, so many fascinating topics to discuss in connection with the Democratic victories in Nebraska that months will pass before they are all covered.

This is a day that the Democrats can celebrate. They can throw their hats into the air and cheer as they look forward to seeing their candidate in the governor's chair for the next two years. Only a last-minute and unexpected switch in staggering returns or an unlooked-for reversal in the mail vote could snatch victory from the hands of Ralph Brooks. The McCook educator could have taken pride in just running a close race but he fooled a lot of people and beat Republican Gov. Victor E. Anderson in his own home of Lancaster County by a vote of 22,023 to 18,506.

Beaten On Home Ground

Brooks appeared, near the end of final vote-counting, to have carried into state office with him Richard R. Larsen of Omaha who ran well ahead of former State Senator J. Monroe Bixler for state treasurer. Incumbent Republican Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney managed to maintain a slim lead over Brooks' running mate, Frank Sorrell of Syracuse.

Not since 1938 has a Democratic governor been elected in Nebraska. But Nebraskans did not end their reversal of form at the state level. Winning by surprising margins were Democratic House nominees Larry Brock of Wakefield and Donald McGinley of Ogallala.

Considered to have the best chance among Democrats in pre-election guessing, Brock upset Rep. Robert Harrison of Norfolk and McGinley took out Rep. A. L. Miller in the big Fourth District. This took two veteran Nebraska representatives out of the halls of Congress.

And those victories are not the only story. In the case of McGinley, particularly, the results were a tribute to an outstanding young man in what, up to now, has been a down-and-out political party. More important in his case, it seems, than the issues and events which surrounded other races is the fact that he is simply an individual of such stature and integrity that his constituents, generally hard-and-fast Republicans, could not fail to recognize his ability.

And there is more yet to this emphatic GOP defeat in Nebraska. Omaha Sen. Hruska was the biggest winner for the Republicans, but his margin of victory fell far short of the pre-election GOP boast of a 100,000 plurality over hard-running Frank Morrison. Likewise, a comparative newcomer, Democrat Clair Callan of Odell, lost by a slim margin of fewer than 7,000 votes to the GOP First District incumbent, Rep. Phil Weaver of Falls City.

The entire picture is an impressive one for the Democrats. The next questions are, how did it happen and what does it mean? This will be puzzling the experts for a long time to come. But a few basic things cannot be overlooked in explanation of the greatest Democratic victory in Nebraska in the history of the state.

State Senator Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who won re-election with ease, hurt Anderson's bid tremendously. His focusing of public attention on the tax issue in Nebraska put Anderson on the spot and the governor's response was too late and too little. Brooks and Carpenter convinced a great many people we had a serious tax problem and Anderson was not able to convince them he could or would solve it.

There was labor, too, which took the starch out of the GOP sails. The tags of labor bossism didn't stick to the Democratic candidates. Labor stood its ground in favor of the candidates of its choice and the rest of the people did not choose to condemn this vast segment of the population on the basis of a few corrupt national figures. These, perhaps, were the two deciding issues in the great Nebraska upset. But there was more than that in the outpouring of voters Tuesday.

Labor Played Its Part

The vote showed general dissatisfaction and discontent on both the local, state and national level. It will now be up to the victorious candidates to satisfy this demand for greater progress and more contentment. Brooks, Brock, McGinley and other winning Democrats will have to prove themselves now.

No longer is Nebraska a one-party state. It is not a Republican stronghold any more nor the bright spot of "Conservative Republicanism." But the door has only been opened and could be quickly closed unless Brooks particularly and the two Democratic House members rise to the challenge that has now been given them. They are capable men and men of whom Nebraska can be proud. They need now only to fulfill the confidence the people of this state, not just Democrats, have placed in them.

Heavy Democratic Responsibility

There is no way to soften the words.

The Republican party took a staggering beating at the hands of the American voters.

With an almost 2 to 1 advantage the Democrats are assured of control of the Senate for not two years, but four. Even should the electorate experience a change of heart and name a Republican president in 1960 the heavily weighted Democratic congress would prevail. This is not a good augury for Republican recovery hopes.

Commentators termed the smashing Democratic victory as something paralleling that of 1933 when the party swept into power like a tidal wave under the impetus of a profound depression. But there are deep differences.

The Democratic landslide of the early thirties included a dynamic and resourceful president, working under one overwhelming mandate — economic recovery. The 1958 landslide finds a Republican president standing amid the ruins of his party, physically limited, and entering the closing years of his administration, unsuccessful in his attempts to strengthen and unify his party and beset with a myriad of crucial problems unsolved.

Obviously this great grant of confidence in the Democrats is at this junction a mixed blessing. A congress cannot administer the nation, it can only pass laws. An intransigent president cannot prevail over a Congress so heavily weighted against his party. There must be some giving and taking on both sides in the public interest. The fact that the past Eisenhower programs received more considerate treatment from the Democrats than from many elements of the President's own party suggests that a satisfactory relationship will be delveloped.

It must be said in summing up the repudiation of the GOP that never in modern political history did a party so popularly led and so hopefully placed in charge of the government so greatly misconstrue the intent of the public confidence. If the Republican party survives its self-induced disaster it must rehabilitate itself on the truism that a public endorsement does not grant a sceptre, but issues an order to serve. This is also a fact that must be constantly kept in mind by the power-loaded Democrats. They will not hold the public confidence if they do not do a better and more satisfactory job than has lately been done, in every phase of government. A truly new Republican party must arise from these ashes and the winning Democrats must regard their mandate as a formidable responsibility.

Lincoln Rises Up

Lincoln voters made impressive decisions in Tuesday's election. Confidence in the city administration and pride in their community were shown with the very favorable vote of 22,514 for the wheel tax and only 12,216 against. With this vote, Lincoln officials are assured that the people of this city will actively support worthwhile and needed projects that are presented in a fair and factual manner.

There was no deceit in the wheel tax presentation and no big move to force it upon anyone. It was presented as a program inaugurated by the City Council, assisted by a petition drive in its favor and as a necessity for a progressive and growing community.

On strictly political things, Lancaster County voters upset all the advance notices. A county courthouse which hasn't had a Democratic office holder in it for more than 30 years will now have two. Given the edge over their opponents by Tuesday's balloting were Democrats Ralph Harlan for county commissioner and Carl S. Hartman for county clerk.

The Democrats who won on the county level are worthy candidates and they were undoubtedly helped by the over-all statewide swing to their party and general feelings of voters. A number of things have happened in the past year which left many people disappointed and disillusioned. The Starkweather case has maintained an air of uncertainty and uneasiness.

The tax issue so prominent on the state level has not escaped Lancaster County. This area of the state has also been hurt with recent business and industrial losses. Add all these things up and consider a few more unknowns and you have an explanation, right or wrong, of Tuesday's results.

Healthy Midwest

A Department of Health research team has reported to the National Heart Institute that Middle West farmers are less apt to have coronary heart disease than anyone else.

The conclusion was based on a study of 20,000 men in North Dakota. Only half as many farmers were found to be coronary sufferers as were members of other occupational groups.

This is really not surprising news in view of research recently which demonstrated that long life and this particular region are related. Nebraska is a leading state in longevity.

Rockefeller Is No. 1 Republican

WASHINGTON—The emergence of Nelson Rockefeller as the nation's No. 1 Republican vote-getter does something very vital and long overdue to the Grand Old Party.

It not only gives Richard Nixon the political heebie-jeebies but it is almost certain to mean sweeping the dinosaurs out from the ranks of Republicanism. This was expected under Eisenhower. Rockefeller was among those who expected it. It didn't happen. Ike beat the GOP dinosaurs who tried to nominate Taft at the Chicago convention in 1952, then turned round and accepted a peace treaty with the dinosaurs when he signed the so-called "surrender" statement which Taft laid before him at that Morningside breakfast in late 1952.

From that time on, the Eisenhower administration has been a split personality—trying to ride the two elephants of Republicanism in opposite directions.

Rockefeller belonged to the liberal wing. And one reason he got out of the Eisenhower administration was first, because he couldn't take the do-nothing policies of Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, his chief as secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, and later, when he joined the White House staff, couldn't take the split personality which influenced his faltering decisions.

It's inevitable that a politician who has been in the limelight for some time accumulates scar tissue.

The man who has acquired the most scar tissue in the Republican party today is Richard Nixon. He has been scarred first because he switched from Taft republicanism to Eisenhower moderation, then back to Taft Republicanism.

When a public figure acquires too much scar tissue he becomes a less effective candidate. Eventually he becomes a political liability. Nixon is heading in that direction. A lot of people voted for Rockefeller in New York State simply to block Nixon as the Republican nominee for President in 1960.

Nixon still has potent friends in the GOP. He has done favors for dozens of Republican national committeemen and state chairmen. He has helped out many GOP candidates. These leaders will be called upon to pay off their debts in 1960.

On the other hand, behind Rockefeller is the most potent political machine in the U.S.—that which twice nominated Tom Dewey for President and twice put Eisenhower in the White House. It has behind it the Chase Manhattan Bank, Guaranty Trust, U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, the Ford Motor Co., General Motors, and the Standard Oil empire.

Radical Charge Just Won't Stick

WASHINGTON—How radical are the "radical" Democratic candidates who came under heavy Eisenhower-Nixon fire in the campaign just concluded? How much trouble will those who are elected really give their moderate Texan leaders, Rep. Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson?

The House speaker and the Senate majority leader are calm and point to certain facts. Of the 20 Democrats who might be on the administration's radical list Rayburn and Johnson have already served with nine, eight in the House and one in the Senate.

Three others are well known to them as Democratic governors. They are George Leader of Pennsylvania, Edmund Muskie of Maine and Elbert Carvel of Delaware. They are liberals but were never tagged radical by the press of their states.

Of the 20, seven — a little better than a third — are Roman Catholics. They would not, therefore, be vulnerable to the "soft on Communism" argument with which the vice-president has had such success in California.

The former senator is Gov. Ernest McFarland of Arizona. On the record he was the South's choice for Senate leader preceding Johnson and southern votes put him over.

☆ ☆ ☆

The former House members who sought Senate seats are Thomas D'Alesandro of Maryland, Clair Engel of California, Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, Thomas Dodd of Connecticut, Harrison Williams of New Jersey, Stephen Young of Ohio, and Robert C. Byrd and Jennings Randolph of West Virginia. The speaker cannot recall that they manifested extremist tendencies likely to bother their old House colleague, the present Senate leader.

The rest are not well known here. But Frank Hogan of New York is a former associate of Thomas E. Dewey in the district attorney's office — a fact held against him by some Democratic liberals. Fred Fayette of Vermont is an old friend and supporter of the Republican senator from his state, George Aiken.

It is certainly true of virtually all of them that they are well to the left of the hard-core of southern conservatives, but then so are Rayburn and Johnson. The more liberal leaven will be felt in the long run of congressional performance, in part because it will give the leaders more leeway in their operations.

The one ouststanding exception to the prospect that Democratic freshmen cannot move the Congress far from its middle way is the civil rights issue. That is a special case and it will erupt promptly when the gavel falls and possibly pre-empt the January stage.

But even if the newcomers show more fire elsewhere than anticipated, Johnson and Rayburn are heavily armed. They decide committee assignments and they understand the operations of their chambers.

The speaker in particular has a whole dispensary of hot-blood coolers at his command, including his own intimidating prestige, which is unique. He can hold any member to five minutes speaking time on any subject, which is short notice for altering the direction of the nation.

A Nose To See With

By HAL HASSELBALCH
Star Staff Writer

BARBARA WALLICK AND BLACKIE
. . . no regrets . . .

Blind for almost six of her seven years, Blackie, nevertheless fulfills a dog's destiny of giving a measure of happiness to human beings.

From the beginning, Black Magic has filled an important place in the household of the Roland Wallick's at 2845 Holdrege. She came into the family as the pet of Barbara who lost a blond cocker spaniel when it contracted distemper.

When the veterinarian who attended the first pet heard of a dog up for adoption, he knew the Wallicks would be interested.

The arrangement was a natural. Blackie needed a home and Barbara was more than ready to obtain a new dog.

No sooner had both gotten used to each other than it was noticed that Blackie's sight was failing.

Unused to coping with the new affliction, the healthy, playful cocker would smash into trees, furniture and other obstructions on the dead run.

Gradually as her sight diminished, Blackie slowed her pace and began adjusting to her impaired vision. As time went by, she became more and more blind.

☆ ☆ ☆

Blindness became total in one eye and spread to the other.

The trouble was diagnosed as cataracts. Doctors were pessimistic about chances of saving Blackie's eyes but the Wallicks insisted an operation be tried to save at least one eye. The family would not hear of putting Blackie to sleep as most suggested.

For a while there was hope, but before long it was evident that Blackie would never see.

Since the operation Blackie slowed and learned to live with her blindness. She is able to move around now almost as well as she used to.

Her nose has taken the place of her eyes. Without apparently doing so, she quickly finds things that come into her path with a light touch of her nose. So well developed is the sense of touch and smell in her nose that it is almost impossible to see her touch the objects in front of her as she plods across a room.

She takes walks daily with Barbara's grandmother and cleverly enough she has found the way to the house of another lady who can be depended upon for a snack.

Instinctively, perhaps, Blackie never wanders into the busy Holdrege St. traffic.

In spite of the fact that she is almost as self-sufficient as any other dog, Blackie hates to be left alone. Not only does she object to being left alone, she insists that whoever is left with her be one of the family.

While she demands attention, she is also willing to give it. When a pet bird was brought into the house, Blackie instantly accepted it by licking it and she went on licking the overbathed creature every time she had the opportunity.

Blackie has also been as cordial to cats.

How do the Wallicks feel after having had a blind dog on their hands for six years? They have not regretted for a minute that they chose the operation and, after that, a blind pet rather than having put the game little cocker to sleep.

Election Laws

Deshler, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: A letter to the editor on November 1 signed by Virginia B. Hall should not go unchallenged. If her statements were correct, Nebraska's election laws have been changed. Her letter gives the voter the assurance that he can flout the law because the ballot is secret and he won't be caught.

Every voter's party affiliation is recorded and can be inspected. When such a voter does as she suggested, when he tries to return to his regular party at the following primary, a watchful registration board or election board will challenge his party affiliation and he will have to swear to support his choice at the fall election — secret ballot notwithstanding.

Our primary laws are on the statute books to assure clean elections and should be strengthened, not flouted. This does not in any way prevent a voter from voting for a minority of candidates on the opposite ticket and being within the law, but if he has any political integrity at all, he will not resort to sly tricks that would weaken our primary laws. In a state which has a heavy majority for one party, such tactics lead straight to crooked elections and is one reason why we need watchers at the polls. It would be well for voters to learn of these provisions in the law. A surprising number of otherwise well-informed people do not know our primary laws.

COUNTY CHAIRWOMAN

Editor's Note: Any person (qualifying as a voter) may vote for whichever candidate he wishes at the general election and does not flout state election law or the purpose of the secret ballot. Straight-ticket voting may be of political party concern, but is strictly not the intent of this state's election system. Nominated candidates of both parties are on the general ballot.

In the primary election, candidates are nominated by party and the voter may vote in either party's election. In non-registration areas or open primary states, he does this by merely calling for the party ballot he wishes at the polls. In registration areas, the voter must declare his party affiliation at least 10 days before the primary election. He may change his declared affiliation as often as he wishes—even daily. Neither the frequency nor the motives may be challenged by election officials. A regular member of one political party, he may declare his wishes to vote in the other party's nominating election by changing his registration or in non-registration areas, by calling for the other ballot at the polls. While this so-called "party jumping" may be debated by some as morally wrong, it cannot be challenged on any legal basis.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: On behalf of the Nebraska State Education Association, may I express sincere appreciation for the complete coverage given by The Star to the NSEA district teachers convention. Each year our conventions grow in importance and achievement and each year the press does an outstanding job of coverage of these events.

The "Aska" Twins

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Hugo F. Srb sounded the right note when he urged Alaskans to follow Nebraska's lead and adopt a single body legislature. Let us recall the times when the brass of both parties buried the hatchet and charged forth unitedly with an arsenal of lethal adjectives to annihilate the Unicameral. But they reckoned without the host that was to rise and fling them back! The case for the single body was a good one. But an unassailable case can be built up if we heed constructive criticism.

Criticisms to be greeted with the following:

(1) Moderate enlargement to 68 under the Sower, and a standard 50 under the North Star.

(2) A well-defined ethical code and a doubling of stipend for the senators.

(3) For Alaska, election of seven members at large to represent the vital overall views. For Nebraska, the same idea, when we take up revision again.

(4) All bills should be given just one more hearing than now.

(5) For sheer efficiency, the governor might have a low-power veto, one which the senate could negate by coralling just one more aye vote.

(6) Eight party-labelled "guests," elected by proportional representation. They would have voice but no final vote.

Building A Team

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Ten years ago we lost something in football. Some say it was a football player — some say it was a coach! Statistics show that coaches come and go. They also show us that players come and go, too.

Other states have been showing us our faults. They say you do not build a football team around one football player. You have to have teamwork. We have had the leading teams in the nation due to the fact that we have played this kind of football.

I am looking for something out of the long blue yonder. So let's go, Nebraska!

Porcupine Vs. Pulp

New York (AP) — The porcupine is making smorgasbord out of newspulp. The Newsprint Information Committee says these quilled animals take a heavy toll of Canadian pulp trees. For instance, one porcupine on the loose can destroy 2,000 trees in the course of a year, and if half are pulp trees, the raw material for more than 50 tons of newsprint is lost, the committee says.

Caril Upset As Starkweather Testifies She Had Chances To Escape

By Nancy Ray

Chivalry is dead.

For over 2½ hours Wednesday, a pintsized teenager turned "stool-pigeon" to relate the details of last January's murder spree and nail shut the last cracks in the prosecution's contention that young Caril Fugate aided Charles Starkweather during the week of terror.

With apparent calm and without hesitation, Starkweather took the witness stand to further implicate his 15-year-old companion and verify testimony of other state witnesses that Caril had ample opportunity to escape or to sound the alarm against him.

He stopped short of detailing the killings which he had said in earlier statements that Caril had committed, or, at least, that he himself had not committed.

Caril Hides Face

Caril's reaction to the announcement that Starkweather would take the stand against her was viewed by a crowded courtroom. The surprise move by County Atty. Elmer Scheele caused Caril to hide her face in trembling hands and jerk nervously in her chair, despite the statement by her attorney that she had been warned of the possibility of his appearance.

When Starkweather strode swiftly into the crowded courtroom less than an hour later, she followed his movements religiously, but kept a tight hold on the sleeve of Atty. Merrill Reller who sat at the defense table next to her.

Starkweather's entry was heralded by the click of unlocking handcuffs and the entry of 8 law officers including Warden Joseph Bovey who kept an eye on his prisoner from a chair immediately back of the witness stand.

Greets Court Reporter

The stocky redhead, dressed in the same light green suit he wore when testifying in his own defense, was sworn in quickly and turned to the witness chair automatically and greeted Court Reporter Elmer Shamberg whom he knew from earlier interviews with county officials.

During routine questions, Starkweather answered in too low a voice and after several admonitions from District Judge Harry Spencer, explained in a strained voice that his collar was too tight. He was given permission to loosen it. He did.

Hunched in the witness chair, and showing unusual interest in his black loafers, Charles Starkweather time and again refuted Caril's contention that he held her prisoner, meanwhile studiously avoiding her intent gaze.

A Single Tear

Caril, never loosing her hold on Merrill Reller's arm, sat gravely biting her lips at the damning testimony, and as Starkweather related the killing of her mother, Mrs. Marion Bartlett, a single tear ran down her cheek and fell on the defense table.

In sharp contrast, her sister, Mrs. Barbara Von Busch, broke into uncontrolled sobs at the unfolding of the Bartlett murders.

As the entire murder trial was traced by Starkweather under Scheele's relentless and methodical questioning, a seemingly perfect pattern emerged as the youth verified down to minute details the stories of prosecution witnesses of the past 4 days.

Frequent Series

An often-repeated sequence of questions and answers were:

Q. And did you get out of the car?

A. Yes.

Q. And were you armed at that time?

A. No.

Q. And where was Caril?

A. In the car.

Q. And where were the guns?

A. In the car.

Q. And were they loaded?

A. Yes.

He added to this testimony, under questioning, that Caril knew how to handle and shoot both a shotgun and a .22 rifle — the weapons which the pair were carrying loaded in the car.

A crowd of spectators is expected for the Thursday court session when Caril's court-appointed attorney, John McArthur is expected to attempt to discredit Starkweather's testimony on cross-examination.

Starkweather Takes Stand

ly—that Scheele will complete the state's case against the 15-year-old girl Thursday afternoon. It appears, however, that his case-in-chief will not be finished until sometime Friday.

Then McArthur will begin his defense, and it now appears the trial will ran through next week.

Caril is charged as Starkweather's accomplice on the death of Robert Jensen, 17, of Bennet, Jan. 27. She has claimed she was his hostage on the murder spree and did not try to escape for fear that Starkweather would harm her family.

Dr. Rogers Takes Stand

Testifying briefly for the state Wednesday afternoon before recess was Nebraska Wesleyan University President Vance D. Rogers.

Dr. Rogers said at Dep. County Atty. Dale Fahrnbruch's request he sat in on a Feb. 1 questioning of Caril at the Lincoln State Hospital. He said she discussed the murder spree with Fahrnbruch and answered his questions without hesitation.

Although he said Caril appeared "terribly frightened," he added she did not appear to be frightened of anyone then present.

Dr. Rogers said Fahrnbruch's questioning reminded him "of a fatherly questioning his daughter rather closely."

Others Testify

Also testifying Wednesday were Marvin Krueger, employe at Tate's Service Station, and Mrs. Juanita Bell, waitress at the station's cafe.

Krueger, completing testimony he started Tuesday, said in answer to a question by McArthur he didn't know what he would have done if Caril had told him Starkweather was a "dangerous criminal."

Mrs. Bell said Caril was in the cafe 10 or 12 minutes waiting for hamburgers while Starkweather was out of sight in the station next door. She told McArthur "I feel she had time" to get away.

Wheat Soil Moisture Less This Fall

. . . BIGGEST DROP IN SOUTH CENTRAL NEBRASKA

The 1958 fall survey of soil moisture conditions in Nebraska wheat gowing areas indicated nearly 1-5 less soil moisture stored than in the fall of last year, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Wednesday.

An average of 4.99 inches of available water is stored in the upper 4 ft. of soil. Last fall, 4.99 inches was stored.

The south central area experienced the greatest decrease with 3.76 inches compared to 6.16 inches last year. The panhandle area had the smallest change, with 3.53 inches this fall compared to 4.30 inches a year ago.

Much of the difference in total moisture was accounted for in the upper two feet of soil. This fall, fields had an average of 3.40 inches of dry surface soil. Last year, the surface soil was mostly wet. The degree of saturation of the entire upper two feet also was less, averaging 1.90 inches of available water as compared to 3 last fall. The 1950-54 average was 1.81 inches.

The south central area showed a sharp loss of water. This fall the upper two feet contained only 1.71 inches of available water as compared to 4.33 inches last year.

The subsoil moisture storage averaged slightly higher this fall with 2.19 inches compared to 1.99 inches last fall. Tests were taken to a depth of four feet and in all but two tests, the moisture had penetrated to the entire depth. The subsoil moisture supply also was above the 1950-54 average of 1.51 inches.

Although Nebraska's 1959 winter wheat crop has a good general appearance, secondary roots are commonly very short and have not made the usual development due to the loose, dry surface soil this fall. Tillering is sub-normal.

Leaf rust is prevalent and in some cases, heavy. A few aphids were found. Some grasshopper damage was evident along field borders. Plants in some fields were already showing effects of the lack of surface moisture. Dry top soil at seeding time has resulted in some irregular germination. In some instances, stands are spotted with seed still lying ungerminated in the dry soil.

Sen. Hruska Now Top Nebraska GOPolitician

By Don Walton

Stamp Omahan Roman Hruska as No. 1 man in the Nebraska Republican Party Wednesday.

The one-term senator withstood a Democratic tide in racing to a 46,000-vote victory over Democratic challenger Frank Morrison of Lincoln.

Actually, the victory wasn't as great as it first appears.

Morrison, 53-year-old Lincoln attorney, sliced some 44,000 votes off Hruska's huge 1956 plurality of nearly 90,000 ballots.

In comparison, Gov. Victor Anderson's apparent 3,500-vote loss to Democrat Ralph Brooks represented a drop in Anderson's 1956 plurality of about 53,000 ballots.

In short, Hruska's huge cushion helped.

Despite a big dip in his victory margin, the 54-year-old senator, elected in 1954 to fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. Hugh Butler, reigns as GOP kingpin today.

In a statement, the senator said:

"As to the results nationally, it is clear that the Republican Party faces the stern necessity of engaging in searching reassessment as to its positions and principals.

"I am confident that this will be done in time so that in our next election the voters of the entire nation will have a clear-cut choice such as we have had here in this race."

Incumbent Cunningham Easy Victor

Easiest Nebraska congressional victory, as expected, went to Rep. Glenn Cunningham of the Second District.

The Omaha Republican, 6 years mayor of Nebraska's largest city, swamped Democrat Francis Casey of Plattsmouth by 30,000 votes.

Cunningham drew widespread support from throughout the Omaha-dominant district.

His wide victory margin came as somewhat of a surprise in a heavily-registered Democratic district amid a strong Democratic trend.

Endorsement by Democratic labor elements helped, but the big victory represented district-wide acclaim despite a trend unfavorable to his party.

Demos Take 2 Offices In AdamsCounty

Lincoln Star Special

Hastings, Neb.—Incumbent Adams County Sheriff Worthy B. Wood (D) was returned to office, and another Democrat, Don Brock, walked off with victory in the county attorney race.

Wood defeated his opponent, John R. Wolf, (R), 4993 to 2631. Brock received 4566 votes to 2442 for James H. Phillips, (R).

Elected unopposed were: Emma Berg, (R), county clerk; Fred O. Schaffroth, (R), register of deeds; Mary Schultz, (R), clerk of the district court; C. G. Yost (R), county treasurer; Roscoe E. Story, (R), county assessor, and Leland Johnson, (R), county surveyor.

Rep. Weaver Dean Of State Delegation

New dean of Nebraska's House delegation is First District Republican Rep. Phil Weaver of Falls City.

The 39-year-old congressman was named to his third term in a 6,000-vote margin over Democrat Clair Callan of Odell.

This one was expected to be closer.

But Weaver, former automobile dealer at Falls City, grabbed an early lead over the Odell hardware dealer-livestock breeder and held it in increasingly bigger bulges as ballots mounted.

Gawart Defeats Whitten 3 To 1

Lincoln Star Special

Nebraska City, Neb.—Merritt Whitten was defeated in his bid for re-election as county superintendent of Otoe County by Carl C. Gawart. Final tallies show Gawart with 3,954 votes and Whitten, 1,507.

Results of other contested races in Otoe County are as follows:

County register of deeds: Frances Webb Farson (R, incumbent) 2,872; Irma M. Speckhals (D) 2,594.

Clerk of the district court: Virginia Naviaux (D, incumbent) 3,535; Arthur J. Lamborn Sr. (R) 1,933.

County sheriff: Ralph J. Hall (R, incumbent) 4,165; Joy L. Buchanan (D) 1,432.

County commissioner, 1st district: John Grundman (R) 838; Charles Gude Sr. (D, incumbent) 1,066.

County commissioner, 2nd district: Earl L. Deming (R, incumbent) 1,180; Harry Ross (D) 709; Fred Thiesfeld (D, write-in) 681.

Only One Demo Likely To Join Brooks Victory

Only one Democrat was set to join apparent gubernatorial winner Ralph Brooks in Nebraska's 1959 edition of the Statehouse team.

Richard R. Larsen, 36-year-old Omaha salesman and 1956 nominee for treasurer, grabbed a bare 2,500-vote victory over State Sen. J. Monroe Bixler of Harrison for state treasurer.

Republican Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney of Hartington, 66, seeking a second term, regained a tenacious lead from Democrat Frank Sorrell for lieutenant governor.

He held a 3,000-vote edge as counting ended.

Both races will rely on mail vote tabulation to name a winner.

In other Statehouse races, Secretary of State Frank Marsh, Auditor Ray Johnson, Attorney General Clarence S. Beck and Railway Commissioner Joseph Brown all held on to their jobs.

Marsh, 34, led the GOP ticket in gaining a fourth term in his battle with Leonard Foster of Lincoln.

Johnson grabbed an 11th term from a dead man who received 157,000 votes. His Democratic opponent, J. R. Kelly of Omaha, died last week.

Beck piled up a 37,000 vote margin over William Grubbs, 32, of Scottsbluff.

Brown received a surprisingly stiff challenge from 83-year-old J. C. McReynolds of Lincoln, finally nabbed a 13,000 vote victory.

Lienemann Issues His Last Report

In a final report on the failure of Lancaster County business firms to file correct inventory schedules in their real property returns, Commissioner Del Lienemann cited 7 "interesting" examples found in his examination as:

—A tavern which listed entire inventory at $100.

—A large cabinet concern listing inventory at $200.

—A body and paint shop with $100 inventory listing.

—A greenhouse with $180 inventory listing.

—A wholesale meat firm with $130 inventory listing.

—A large local chain of eating establishments reporting an inventory of $400.

—Retail service stations listing inventories of $200 and $280.

Deferring comments and recommendations on the survey of county business and professional tax schedules, Lienemann issued a final report of his study showing that 318 firms have not filed the form (2A) requiring listing of the federal income tax inventory figure; 93 firms which failed to file Form 2A and listed no inventory, and at least 80 firms whose tax filings cannot be located in county files.

Lienemann promised a final report with conclusions and recommendations by Friday.

Messmore Wins For High Court

Strong Baldwin Challenge Fails

Nebraska Supreme Court Judge Fred W. Messmore was sure of re-election to a 4th 4-year term on the court Wednesday, despite a stiff challenge by W. O. Baldwin of Hebron.

Messmore

Although returns in the race had seesawed during the early hours, the late returns gave Messmore a growing. Margin over the challenger.

Messmore was the only one of 3 Supreme Court judges who faced a challenger in the election. Judges John W. Yeager of Omaha and Edward F. Carter of Gering were unopposed for re-election.

Dr. Greenberg, Adkins Win Regent Races

Two contested seats on the University of Nebraska Board of Regents were filled by relatively close votes.

Dr. B. N. Greenberg of York won a clear victory over Mrs. Margaret Alma Christensen, a Shelby housewife and former school teacher.

Dr. Greenberg Adkins

The vote was 22,716 for Greenberg, 18,377 for Mrs. Christensen.

In a close vote, which during early returns had given the lead first to one and then the other, Richard E. Adkins of Osmond pulled out in front of William W. Spear of Fremont.

Adkins, a banker and livestock feeder, trailed Spear, a Fremont attorney and former state GOP chairman, in the primary, but with only two precincts yets to be counted in the general election unofficial totals, Adkins had 28,410 to Spear's 26,331.

Two unopposed candidates were re-elected to the State Board of Education, A. J. Crabtree of McCook and Dr. Raymond M. Gilmore of Kearney.

U.S. Editors Comment On Democratic Sweep In Elections

By United Press International

Newspaper editorial comment on Tuesday's election:

New York World-Telegram and Sun: "The Democratic sweep of Congress may be attributed to the recession which caused industrial workers to lose jobs, to the chronic discontent of farmers, to rising prices and living costs, and to the historical American pattern of the administration—power losing congressional seats in off-year elections."

NEW YORK POST: "The decisive Democratic victory probably marks the end of the Eisenhower era. Yet in a sense that era ended when the President himself turned his back on 'modern Republicanism' and became a footnote to Vice President Nixon's campaign oratory."

NEW YORK JOURNAL-AMERICAN: The Democrats have "widened their margin of control in both branches of Congress. All of which adds immeasurably to the problems of President Eisenhower and increases, in equal measure, the responsibility of the Democrats for the nation's safe conduct."

NEW YORK TIMES: "The result brings into elective public office a refreshing and engaging new personality (Nelson Rockefeller) that must be reckoned with in future political speculation."

NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE: "In the midst of a national Democratic landslide, Nelson Rockefeller's unique Republican landslide is a tremendous tribute to the man, to his personal warmth and magnetism, to the tireless industry of his campaigning, and to his straightforward 'get the facts' approach to the state's problems."

ATLANTA JOURNAL: "The element of surprise is all but lost in the terrific beating the Democrats gave the Republicans in Tuesday's voting across the nation . . . the nation has given notice it's in the mood for change. This attitude may become even more pronounced before time to elect a new President."

BOSTON TRAVELER: "One of the brightest angles of the whole election was the heavy volume of voting."

BOSTON GLOBE: "The voters, with surprising unanimity, vented their wrath on the Republicans whom, rightly or wrongly, they held responsible for the recession, the tax burden, the high cost of living, and, to a lesser extent, lack of leadership and confused foreign policy."

SAN FRANCISCO CALL-BULLETIN — Pat Brown's election (as governor) and his margin of victory overnight have made him a figure of national political prominence. With New York Governor Averell Harriman's defeat by Nelson Rockefeller, Brown, a big winner in the nation's 2nd most populous state, can't help but be a dominant figure in the Democratic party's 1960 convention.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE — The votes have been counted and the Democrats have won a notable victory. They now will be put on trial and the ensuing years will test the pledges and the platform which they have presented to the voters in this election.

SAN FRANCISCO NEWS — The ebb and flow of political fortune swept two relatively young and new personalities on toward national destinies. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown at 53 and Nelson A. Rockefeller at 50, through their election as governors of the two most populous states, acquire new influence in their respective parties.

Blaze Damages Seacrest Farm

Damage estimated at $500 was done by fire Wednesday at the Joe R. Seacrest farm 1½ miles south of the Denton cutoff.

Though the blaze was brought under control before Lincoln firemen arrived, hay and fencing were destroyed. A brush fire started the hay, firemen said. No buildings were damaged.

Knight Blames Knowland For Defeat

Los Angeles (AP)—"I feel like a football coach whose team had been given a good chance to win and wound up getting beat 42 to 2."

So said Gov. Goodwin J. Knight as he stepped reluctantly into the wings after a quarter-century as one of the most colorful figures on California's political stage.

But despite a decisive defeat in his race with Democratic Rep. Clair Engle for the U.S. Senate, the 61-year-old Knight served notice he's not in the wings to stay. Said he when asked if he'll remain in politics:

"I certainly will. Just because Knowland ruined things for the Republican party in California in 1958 is no reason why I should get out of politics."

The bitter reference to Sen. William Knowland emphasized once again the rift between the two that most Republicans blame for the party's thorough thrashing in Tuesday's election.

Blame

Knight—long popular with both parties and becoming a Republican of national stature a year ago—plainly places the blame on Knowland for his loss.

Knowland, who went down in crashing defeat to Atty. Gen. Edmund Brown in the race for governor, started their feud by deciding last year to seek Knight's job. When party leaders made it clear they backed Knowland, Knight had no choice but to switch to the Senate race.

And he stubbornly stayed in in until the last minute.

Even as they were swept under by the Democratic tide, the two Republican Titans swapped tart phrases, just as they did during the campaign.

Said Knight: "For many years, when the Republicans have presented to the people of California a progressive program, the voters have always responded with their support."

'Right-To-Work'

This was an obvious swipe at Knowland's espousal of the now-defeated "right-to-work" bill. Because of it, Knight refused to endorse Knowland.

In Knowland's concession speech, he said just as pointedly: "Had I been disloyal to my principles or turned my back on the other candidates on the Republican ticket, I would feel less at ease than I do today."

Both Knight and Knowland had been prime vote getters. As the ballots piled up against the Republicans, Knight said candidly they both could have won if they stuck to their own offices. His explanation for his switch to the Senate race:

"The split in the party would have been much worse if Sen. Knowland and I had slugged it out in the primary election (for governor)."

Faith Lutheran Adds 4½ Acres

The Faith Lutheran Church, 63rd and Madison, has announced the purchase of an additional 4½ acres of land directly south of the church's present location.

Dr. Paul Schluesener, chairman of the board of directors, indicated that the land would be used for locating additional facilities which are still in the planning stage.

He said it would probably be 60 days before the board makes any definite decision on the type of construction to be located on the new land.

The church has hired architect Donald Hollis of Overland Park, Kan., to submit preliminary designs to the board.

Cost of the new land was $37,500.

Twelve pages of wholesome colored comics, feature stories with plenty of pictures and the big entertainment section are a few reasons why nearly everyone reads The "Sunday Journal and Star."

Dear Abby . . .

No Sense, No Feeling!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I want to ask you a question. Why do women who suddenly discover their husbands have found somebody else try to hold onto them by "using" the children? How can a woman be so lacking in pride as to try to hang onto a man who doesn't want her any more and tells her so? You only live once, and I don't think a man should pass up a chance for happiness just because he made a mistake in his first marriage. So, Abby, if a man finds a woman he really and truly loves and wants to leave his wife for her, do you think it is fair for his wife to fall all over him and try to hold him by using that old line, "What about the children?"

LUCILLE

DEAR LUCILLE: There is nothing prideless in a woman trying to hold her marriage together. Now, let me ask YOU a question. What ABOUT the children?

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns the Christmas card list. I don't mind for economical reasons but each year we send cards to cousins who never even call us when going through our town. The only time we see them is at funerals. They never accept any of our invitations and never extend any to us. We don't get Christmas cards from them until past Christmas, which shows it was in repayment of ours in case they have any left over. I thank you in advance for your opinion.

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: There is obviously no "good will toward men" in the exchange of Christmas cards between you and the relatives you mention. Unless you sincerely enjoy sending Christmas cards to these "in-name-only" cousins, drop them from your list.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Oh, why, oh, why, wasn't I lucky enough to read advice like you gave Hjalmer about marrying someone you fell in love with through letters? I had a romantic correspondence with a man for two years. He said he was a good Christian man, did not drink, owed no bills and had a steady job and money in the bank. I quit a good job and traveled 2,000 miles at my own expense to meet him. Everyone knew I went to marry him so before I gave myself a chance to know him very well, we were married. On our wedding night he drank himself to sleep. Later on he told me he was married once for six years but never had marital relations with his wife so she divorced him. Two months after we were married he ups and walked out, leaving me $2,000 in bills to pay. It's too late for me, but Hjalmer, take Abby's advice, and don't marry a pen pal until you know her better than I knew mine.

TOO LATE

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 years old and I am going steady with a boy who lives 1600 miles away. I don't go out with anybody else because when you are going steady you aren't supposed to. My friends say I am foolish and my mother thinks I am out of my mind. Do you think there is anything wrong with going steady with a boy who lives in a different town?

GOING STEADY

DEAR GOING: With 1600 miles between you, it's a pretty long wait between "dates." If you are going to BURY yourself, you might as well call a spade a spade. This is not "going steady" — it's "sitting-home steady." A pretty sour idea for Sweet 16!

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Town Talk

—must skip along with the news this ayem — and we'll talk first to the small-fry set — those four-and five-year olds who are particularly interested in the Junior League's Storytime Hour.

Today, of course, is Thursday — and there is to be the Storytime period at the South Branch Library at the usual time of 2:30 o'clock. Of particular interest to other members of the very young set is the announcement that next Thursday afternoon — Nov. 12, there will be a Storytime Hour at the University Place Library — at the same hour, 2:30 o'clock — and for the same age group.

* * *

For future reference — it will be storytime at the South Branch Library on the first and third Thursday of each month — and at the University Place Library on the second and fourth Thursday of each month.

* * *

—hear that Mr. and Mrs. Milton Koch are back in town after a five months freighter trip which took them to Europe—the Scandinavian countries — Singapore, Malaya, Bangkok — Japan and Hong Kong.

Mr. and Mrs. Koch left last June for New York where they boarded the freighter for Europe. They docked at Antwerp — and from there they dashed off on their own for Brussels and the fair — From Brussels Mr. and Mrs. Koch went to the British Isles — visiting England, Scotland and Ireland — and then they were off to the Scandinavian countries — Then came Holland — and at Rotterdam the Kochs again boarded a freighter which took them to Hong Kong and which stopped, en route at a number of fascinating ports. After a week in Hong Kong the travelers went on to Japan which they toured rather extensively. Then the long trip home to San Francisco — and Lincoln.

* * *

—there will be interest in news from Cheyenne, Wyo. — and from Mr. and Mrs. Dick Young (formerly of Lincoln) who have made announcement of the arrival of a daughter, Tara Lee, on Wednesday, Oct. 21.

A Charming Lady--Just Waiting

Poise and serenity after a vigorous political campaign might be hard to achieve unless, of course, you were Mrs. Ralph Brooks and had been blessed with such natural traits.

We met Mrs. Brooks Wednesday afternoon. She is as quiet spoken and as unassuming as Nebraska's current First Lady—and exceedingly gracious in spite of the fact we had interrupted a brief respite from the rigors of travel, hand-shaking and a situation that must cause a certain amount of anxiety.

But somehow we can't portray Mrs. Brooks shrouded in doubt and anxiety. It wouldn't be in character. Neither she nor her husband consider the election over, and definitely they have no plans for the Governor's Mansion—not at the moment.

If events turn in their favor, Mrs. Brooks will be a charming First Lady, and will assume the duties of her position with ease and dignity. If Mr. and Mrs. Brooks remain in McCook their lives will be unchanged.

Mrs. Brooks has a hobby —youngsters—There are no children in the Brooks household, but from the time she left the University of Nebraska Mrs. Brooks has been teaching, and has been in close contact with children of all ages. Even now she is teaching in the McCook Junior High School.

"Each year I tell myself that I am through teaching. That this year I will take a rest," said Mrs. Brooks, "and each year I find myself back in the school room. Sometimes I have been pressed into service because of an unexpected vacancy; other times I am on the substitute list—but there are those years that I teach because I like children, I like developing their minds; I like the contact with them, and probably would be utterly lost without my work."

Mrs. Brooks and her husband made it quite plain they were not counting votes before the mail was opened. Their pleasure over the immediate outcome was concerned mainly with the fact that Mr. Brooks had made such a splendid showing, but they would be a little less than human if they did not have hopes for the final count.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks had planned to remain in Lincoln for a few hours rest, but a telephone call from McCook changed all that. McCook—including the Junior College students and the hundreds of children who had been in Mrs. Brooks' classes during the years, had planned a celebration for Wednesday evening, and Mr. and Mrs. Brooks were to be on hand. They were. They left their car in Lincoln and late on Wednesday afternoon planed off to McCook to receive an enthusiastic welcome and the good wishes from their friends.

The Star In Suburbia

EASTBOROUGH

Think we mentioned last week that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartsock and their children, Linda, Chrisie and Lori, will be moving from Eastborough to their new home in Omaha the middle of this month.

Honoring Mrs. Hartsock at a neighborhood coffee Tuesday morning were Mrs. Joseph Ritter and Mrs. LaVerne Stetson. The informal affair was held at the Stetson home, and included among the guests were Mrs. Robert Newell, Mrs. Richard Bloom, Mrs. W. J. Stringfellow, Mrs. Lawrence Meng, Mrs. Jesse Haith, Mrs. Jack Godsey, Mrs. Robert Bridges and Mrs. Merle Hahn. During the morning a farewell gift from the group was presented to the honoree.

On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Ritter were host and hostess at a small dinner party at their home, and attending were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hartsock, Mr. and Mrs. Don Seaman and Capt. and Mrs. Merle Hahn.

A new arrival in the suburb is Robert Craig Mount, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Mount, who joined the ranks of the bassinet brigade at Lincoln General Hospital on Tuesday, Oct. 28. Robert has a brother, Stuart III, and a sister, Carla.

His paternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Stuart Mount of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ruegsegger of Warren, Ill.

PARK VALLEY HEIGHTS

Mrs. Lewis Holland was hostess to the members of her Canasta club last Thursday when she entertained at her home. Present for the dessert supper and evening of cards were Mrs. Kenneth Alles, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. Jack Herbert, Mrs. Glen Herbert, Mrs. Bob Gould, Mrs. Jack Legler and Mrs. Delbert Leigh.

Whirl away in a silky spin that makes your evening a thing of beauty. Romantics each and every one, from floaty bouffant to fringe-sashed sheath. In a brilliance of dancing colors, each priced so low you can afford to fall in love with all of them.

Carpenter: 'I Have Mandate To Try For Tax Law Change'

"I have a mandate to attempt to change Nebraska tax laws."

The speaker: State Sen. Terry Carpenter talking to The Star by phone from Scottsbluff on an incredible day-after-election in Nebraska.

An apparent stunning upset victory for Democrat Ralph Brooks over Gov. Victor Anderson provided Carpenter with the mandate, he explained.

Self-styled Terry the Terrible, controversial political figure and Democrat-turned-Republican, opened the assault on Anderson's tax enforcement policies long before Brooks was named Democratic gubernatorial candidate in the May primary.

Carpenter is credited with a share of Brooks' victory, which observers are certain resulted from tax enforcement dissatisfaction.

Carpenter will, he said, present a proposal to the Legislative Council at its meeting in Lincoln Nov. 18-20 asking that the Council act to revise state tax statutes.

He would be willing to undertake the task himself if it so voted, Carpenter said.

If it doesn't so vote, he's going to do it anyway, Carpenter pointed out.

"It will be done," he announced.

'First Business"

"I think it should be the first order of business for the new Legislature. Tax statute revision should be effective by March 1," Carpenter said.

"Some laws must be repealed, some amended and others enacted," he said.

And if Brooks and the new Democratic office-holders do not act to correct tax enforcement, Carpenter said, "they will be out of power in 1960."

Elected to his third term in the Legislature Tuesday, Carpenter refused to speculate as to how much of a personal victory for him was contained in Brooks' apparent upset.

As to future political office, he would only say, "I expect to file for re-election to the State Legislature."

Nebraska Democrats Jubilant

GOP Promises All-Out Program

While Democratic leaders hailed stunning victories by their candidates in Nebraska's surprise election with unrestrained jubilation, Republicans pledged an all-out drive to regain undisputed prominence in the state.

"We are jubilant over the victories of our candidates," Democratic State Chairman Russell Hanson of Newcastle told The Star.

"Our victories clearly show that the voters of Nebraska recognized the ability, honesty and integrity of our candidates."

'Two-Party Boost'

"It is a great boost for the two-party system in Nebraska."

Hanson gave all the credit for upset Democratic triumphs to the winning candidates and to party workers, specifically National Committeeman Bernard Boyle of Omaha.

Republican State Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr., of Grand Island promised Tuesday's results will create a stronger state Republican Party "more dedicated to its responsibilities."

"We shall quickly regroup with outstanding candidates and return shortly to our position of prominence," Spelts told The Star.

To Watch For 'Liberals'

"The voters of Nebraska will appraise very carefully the performance of those Democrats elected to office to see whether or not they display a tendency toward the liberal trend of the national Democratic Party.

"I cannot believe Nebraska as a whole is desirous of pulling left of the conservative viewpoint it has always maintained," Spelts noted.

OF NEBRASKA

—SENATE AND HOUSE—

Sweep By Demos Exceeds Claims

Washington (AP)—Democrats exceeded even the predictions of their leaders in piling up heavy margins of control in both Senate and House. There was almost an unbroken string of victories over Republicans from coast to coast.

With all Senate races decided and only 3 House races still in doubt, here was the status of the 2 branches of the 86th Congress:

Senate—62 Democrats and 34 Republicans for a gain of 13 Democratic seats. In the outgoing Congress, the lineup was 49-47, Democratic.

House—281 Democrats and 151 Republicans for a net gain of 45 Democratic seats. In the 3 undecided races, all for seats held by the GOP, one Democrat, and 2 Republicans were leading. Two years ago, 235 Democrats and 200 Republicans were elected to the House.

Highest Since 1942

The 62-seat total by the Democrats in the Senate is their highest since 1942 in the late years of the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration.

As for the House, it was necessary to go back to 1937, the heydey of the New Deal, to find a bigger Democratic lineup. In that Congress, they held 333 seats.

Democratic campaign leaders in the Senate this year had held their most optimistic predictions to a gain of 12 (14 counting the 2 upcoming senators in Alaska) and several had said 10 was more likely. For the House, most party spokesmen forecast about 40 or less. But some went as high as 47.

Not a single Democratic Senate seat was lost to the Republicans in Tuesday's voting. The Democratic gain of 13 was a record for that party.

One House Democrat, Mrs. Coya Knutson of Minnesota, whose husband pleaded with her not to run again, lost to a Republican. But her party offset that with 46 overturns of GOP seats.

The final makeup of the 86th will not be known for at least 3 weeks. Alaska, the new 49th state, holds its first congressional election Nov. 25. Democrats are considered certain to win one Senate seat there, with a chance for the second in a race in which the Republican candidate is slightly favored. The Democrats are given the edge for the single House post.

The biggest surprise of the Senate overturns was in Ohio where veteran Sen. John Bricker, 1944 Republican vice-presidential nominee, lost out to former Rep. Stephen M. Young, who had been beaten in previous statewide races for lesser offices.

But the deefats of GOP Sens. Arthur V. Watkins in Utah and Frank A. Barrett in Wyoming were almost as startling. Watkins lost to Frank E. Moss, Salt Lake County attorney, in a bitter 3-cornered fight, and Barrett was defeated narrowly by Gale W. McGee, dean of history at the University of Wyoming.

The Democrats scored their biggest House gains in Connecticut and Indiana, where they unseated 6 Republicans each. In Connecticut, this meant a complete overturn of the delegation.

The Democrats also took over 3 GOP seats in each of these states: Iowa, Maryland, Ohio and Pennsylvania. And they gained one or 2 in 17 other states.

NU Has Strangle Hold On Kansas At Lawrence

Lincoln Star Special

Lawrence, Kan. — Nebraska, traditionally the most vexing foe in Kansas football history, bars the way to Homecoming glory Saturday as both clubs seek to move up in the 1958 Big Eight race.

A crowd which may reach 25,000 is expected for this 65th annual vendetta which kicks off at 1:35 p.m. before a Big Eight network television audience. Putting two victories back-to-back for the first time this season, the Jayhawkers squared their conference ledger 2-2 with last Saturday's 21-12 win at Kansas State. By beating N.U. they can level their overall reading at 4-4.

Nebraska took a 31-0 stunning from Missouri Saturday to sink a game behind 4th-place K.U. at 1-3. M.U. and Oklahoma are tied for the conference lead at 3-0; Colorado third at 4-1. The Cornhuskers are 2-4 overall.

Embattled or not, Nebraska holds Kansas in one of college football's strangest strangle holds. Of KU's 15 wins in this series only 3 have been achieved in Lawrence. The last was 10 years ago as Dick Gilman fired 3 touchdown passes to pace a 27-7 win. Henry Shenk's wartime delegation scored a 20-0 victory in 1944. These mark KU's only two wins at home in this century. Only other Jayhawker victory was an 18-4 conquest in 1896 with Bert Kennedy, still a practicing Lawrence dentist; Arthur St. Ledger Mosse, and Shorty Hamill performing the heroics.

Frequently the Jayhawkers have been favored. Just as often they have had the Scarlet on the hook with scant time remaining, only to see Nebraska cash a late opportunity to pull it out.

Jack Mitchell's first edition will go in lightly favored. The Kansas State club which K.U. felled by 9 points, earlier dismantled the Huskers, 23-6, in Lincoln. However, Nebraska led Colorado into the last quarter two weeks ago before falling, 16-27, at Boulder.

NU To Give 'Best' At KU, Coach Says

By Don Bryant

Bill Jennings took time out from the Husker practice Wednesday to pay tribute to his players as they prepared for Saturday's game at Kansas.

Jennings would make no predictions and he summed up the Nebraska chances at Lawrence this way:

"Of course, we'll have to play better than we did against Missouri if we're going to do anything to Kansas."

But the Husker coach was full of praise for the way his players have been working all season.

"If we don't play better this week, it won't be because the kids aren't trying or working like the devil," Bill said.

Repeat Performance

The Nebraska-Kansas game will mark the second time this season that Jayhawk coach Jack Mitchell has been involved in a coach-player battle.

Mitchell went against his former head coach, Bud Wilkinson, when the Jayhawks played Oklahoma and his club was beaten,, 43-0.

Jennings was backfield coach at Oklahoma when Mitchell was the Sooner quarterback in 1947-48, so Jack will be up against another former mentor this week.

Lineups Not Set

Nebraska's lineup for Kansas is still unsettled. There is still the question of the availability of left halfbacks Pat Fischer and Max Martz, both nursing hurts.

If neither can peddle Saturday, the load will fall on soph John Minnick.

Hitchcock Couldn't Do Better In Ivy League

New York (AP) — A couple of weeks ago Dartmouth's football team got close enough to the Holy Cross goal to try a field goal. Brian Hepburn's kick from the 24 was low and Crusader Tom Henehan blocked it. Then linebacker John Esposito raced in, grabbed the ball and sprinted 80 yards for the winning Holy Cross touchdown.

That's the way things go when you play football in the unpredictable Ivy League. It's no wonder Princeton freshman Coach Jake McCandless quotes a statement printed in a Shoppers' guide:

"If the Ivy League ever has a commissioner, it ought to be Alfred Hitchcock. You never can tell what will happen in the end."

It might be added that whatever happens is likely to be weird. For instance:

In the Yale-Columbia game, Columbia's Harvey Brookins scooted downfield to put the Lions in scoring range. A couple of plays failed to gain much and a pass was called for.

Quarterback Dick Donelli rolled out to the right and found all the receivers thoroughly covered and a Yale man charging at him. He pulled up short, eluded the tackler, turned again and faded back, still looking for a receiver.

He was back about the 35-yard line when Bob Federspiel trotted into an area in front of the goal posts which Yale had left unguarded. Donelli hit him with a pass for the touchdown that clinched Columbia's only victory.

It was something of the same sort at Princeton last Saturday when Tiger wingback John Heyd raced to the left, holding the ball poised for a pass. The receivers all were covered and Brown defenders were pouring in. Heyd prudently ran the other direction as fast as he could and a surprised Princeton lineman scrambled to his feet and tried to block someone. It wasn't necessary. All the secondary players had gone the other way and Heyd just outran his pursuers to score.

Also last Saturday Dartmouth was using its constantly shifting "confusion" defense against Yale. The Elis, of course, frequently had to change their plays after they reached the scrimmage line and they did it with considerable success until they were within a few yards of the tying touchdown.

Then quarterback Tom Singleton called a play in the huddle, looked over the defense at the scrimmage line and called a change. Then he looked again and called for another. By the time the ball was snapped, everyone was confused and there was no gain.

Western Would Disband Under New Realignment

Three WL Cities Would Join Texas

Texas Loop Holds Key To Massive Proposals By Bill DeWitt

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)—Six high classification minor leagues wrestled Wednesday with a radical realignment plan. If approved it would alter their entire structure.

The plan, proposed at the opening of the two-day realignment conference by William O. DeWitt, baseball coordinator and administer of the major leagues half a million dollar fund, could have the following results:

1. The American Assn. would acquire 3 Texas League cities—Houston, Dallas and Ft. Worth—and expand to 10 teams by dropping Louisville.

2. The International League also would expand to 10 clubs by acquiring Atlanta of the Southern Assn. and Jacksonville of the South Atlantic League.

3. The Texas League would acquire Amarillo, Tex., Albuquerque, N.M., and another franchise from the Western League, which would disband. The Texas League would drop from AA to a glorified A classification.

4. The South Atlantic League would continue to operate as an 8-team league with the addition of Columbus, Ga. and Asheville, N.C.

5. The Eastern League classification would be lowered from A to B.

There was no immediate indication as to what effect the loss of Atlanta would have on the Southern Assn., which suffered through one of its worst campaigns in 1958.

The crux of the entire situation centers around the Texas League and the American Assn. If the Texas League agrees to give up its 3 principal cities to the triple-A American Assn., a wholesale mapchanging would be assured.

Texas League President Dick Butler acknowledged that his circuit has received two "concrete" propositions from DeWitt. He declined to say what these proposals were. However, it was learned that they are: A) how much the Texas League would require in damages to give up the Houston territory to the AA and, B) how much the circuit would demand for the territories of Houston, Ft. Worth and Dallas to the AA.

The conditions to the proposals would be that the Texas League would pick up Albuquerque, Amarillo and one other city from the Western League; would be guaranteed 8 working agreements with the major leagues, provided the newly aligned Texas League would consent to become a league a notch lower than double A.

"The proposals have some merit," admitted Butler. "Some of DeWitt's ideas are excellent. Others we don't like. If I can be shown where the Texas League can benefit by these changes, I'm entirely in favor of it. This is a give and take proposition. So far, it's been all take and no give."

Chiefs' Director Is Optimistic

Vaulx Risser, a director of the Lincoln Baseball Club and representing the Western League Chiefs at the Memphis meeting, told The Star by phone late Wednesday night "I feel sure we will have baseball in Lincoln next year.

"These meetings here are exploratory, to see what can be done to help minor league baseball. I am sure that no realignment will be done here. It will be discussed, of course, but if any changes are made they will be made in the December meeting in Washington.

"As of the moment," Risser said, "the Western League is still in existence, and we are planning to play Western League baseball next summer."

Two news items out of Omaha's Inter-City League recently are likely to have great importance for prep football in the entire state.

The first break was the announcement of a home-and-home series between Scottsbluff and Omaha South to start next year in Scottsbluff. We also understand Scottsbluff and Grand Island are slated next year.

This will give Scottsbluff its best schedule ever as far as state-wide ratings are concerned, and may settle many arguments. But of even more importance is South's stepping out of strictly Inter-City, plus Lincoln High, competition.

Except for Fremont's series with Omaha Benson, Lincoln High has been the only other state school to play the Omaha clubs. Some variation in the Omaha scheduling will be good for all concerned. South also indicated it was interested in branching out further.

The second item of news, the withdrawal of Council Bluffs' Thomas Jefferson from the loop, may give South that chance.

Omaha Westside will probably replace TeeJay, but the indications are that the Omaha schools are branching out. Westside in the league follows natural rivalries and competition.

As far as Lincoln High's invitation to join the loop also is concerned, it sounds like LHS principal William Bogar hit the nail on the head, and the situation is well in hand.

LHS should be highly flattered by the invitation, but should never seriously consider accepting it. The Links' connections with the other Lincoln schools plus other big state schools are too important to sever or even curtail.

But the break has been made by the Omaha schools. Although there are no indications that it will happen, or that the Omaha teams want it, CB Abraham Lincoln's resignation from the loop would also help the situation greatly.

We would like to see the Inter-City League cut down in size, allowing the Omaha schools to play games with more state teams. These games would be great for the out-state schools, and they would draw well in Omaha, too, after they had been established.

The only other way to allow this to happen would be for the Inter-City loop to adopt a plan of having the football championship decided on only 5 or 6 games, and not playing a round-robin schedule. We have never liked this method, since it often leaves things unsettled.

Our opinions, of course, are based on what would be good for prep football in the state, not necessarily what would be good for prep football in Omaha. We realize that the Omaha schools can have valid reasons for disagreeing, based on their natural rivalries.

Four Nebraska schools and 4 Iowa schools are also considering forming a new conference. The Nebraska teams are South Sioux City, Blair, Tekamah and Omaha Holy Name. Iowa schools interested are Leeds, Mapleton, Onawa and Missouri Valley.

Many of these schools already play each other, but this loop would not be particularly good for the Nebraska teams' state reputations.

Conferences can be very good. They can also be a handicap.

Anderson . . Fast, Too

Busso Trips Joe Brown

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP)—Sixth ranked Johnny Basso of New York earned a shot at the lightweight title Wednesday night when he scored a unanimous 10-round decision over champion Joe Brown in a non-title bout opening the plush new Exhibition Hall in this resort city.

Brown, making his first appearance since his decision over Kenny Lane at Houston, Tex., in July, appeared rusty and the game New Yorker raked him with left jabs and hooks, mixing them with right crosses.

Busso appeared in trouble in the 4th round when Brown opened a deep gash high on his left cheekbone but Busso came on nicely and carried the fight to the lethargic champion, who opened up only rarely.

Strongman Paul Anderson Impresses City Mat Fans

By Bob McCoy

Some 1,900 Capital City wrestling fans got their first "in the flesh" look at the world's strongest man at Pershing Municipal Auditorium Wednesday night.

And there was not a soul who came away with the idea that Paul Anderson, the Georgia-bred strongman, would not go far in his new mat career.

Anderson, the 355-pounder who walked off with the Gold Medal in the heavyweight division of the 1956 Olympic weightlifting competition, polished off the Masked Marvel in two quick falls during his tour of the Pershing ring and then unmasked him.

This kept Anderson's wrestling record of never losing a fall in nearly 200 bouts or ever being taken down against his own will intact.

Paul's basic formula is brute strength—the same kind that enabled him to hoist 6,200 pounds in the 1956 Olympics on a back lift. But there are other factors, including speed surprisingly enough.

The 355-pound giant (his measurements include 25 inches on the neck, 59 on the chest, a 49-inch waist, 36½ inch thighs and biceps that bulge up to 23½ inches) is probably the fastest man in his weight class.

The genial Anderson recalled an exhibition race last spring against former world 440 record holder Jim Lea of Southern Cal. The distance was 50 yards from a dead start and Lea won in a time of :05.5, just a step ahead of Paul's :05.8 clocking.

Anderson claims he can do 11.6 for 100 yards, but he'd "rather bet on 12 seconds."

A former Taccoa, Ga., prep football star, Anderson received grid scholarship offers from most Southeastern Conference schools, but chose to enroll at Furman University in South Carolina. He played guard on a split-T and blocking back in the single wing there for one year.

At Furman, the 25-year-old Anderson developed an interest in weight lifting and began setting world marks. Wrestling developed from the weight workouts.

The Lincoln fans Wednesday night will testify to his ability in the latter pursuit. But just how far he will go remains to be seen, because these same fans saw some top-notch performers in the remainder of promoter Jack Pesek's show.

There were Hans Schmidt and Dick the Bruiser, who collaborated on a brain trust to beat the Russian brothers Boris and Nicoli Volkof in a thrill-packed tag team match.

Emil Dusek and Johnny Gilbert put on another rough show before drawing in the opening bout and Kathy Starr got the best of Laura Martinez in a feature between a couple of lady grapplers.

MacPhail Eyes 1st Half Spot In Baltimore Job

New York (AP) — Lee MacPhail, new general manager of the Baltimore Orioles, has set his sights on a first division finish for the ball club.

Although MacPhail, 41-year-old son of Larry MacPhail won't take over his new job officially until later in the month, he already has ideas about the Orioles.

James Keelty, Jr., Oriole president, confirmed MacPhail's appointment Wednesday in Baltimore. He said the new general manager first will clean up unfinished business in his position as director of player personnel for the New York Yankees.

As part of the new setup at Baltimore, Paul Richards, who has acted as both general manager and field manager, will devote his full attention to managing. Keelty said Richards was in full accord with the change and had, in fact, recommended MacPhail for the job.

"The way I understand it, Paul (Richards) and I will collaborate on any deals involving major league clubs," said MacPhail. Paul is a tremendous manager in my book."

As for the current Orioles, MacPhail said he saw them play about 11 games last season. "I can talk better later after I get to know the situation better," he said. "I do know they scored fewer runs than anybody in the league, that they have good pitching and some good young players."

MacPhail said he regretted leaving the Yankees after 14 years in the organization but felt he could not afford to reject this opportunity. He wouldn't talk about his salary.

"After I take over down there, I guess the main problem will be how to beat the Yankees," he said. "Certainly, I would deal with the Yankees if it would help Baltimore. Any club that finished in the second division (Baltimore was 6th) should be willing to trade with anybody."

Reminded that there had been rumors of a Yankee-Oriole deal involving Baltimore pitchers, MacPhail smiled.

"I understand there is quite a feeling in Baltimore against trading pitchers to the Yankees," he said in an oblique reference to the deal of a few years back by which the Yanks acquired Bob Turley and Don Larsen.

Did MacPhail consider any Oriole untouchable as far as trades are concerned?

"I'd want to talk with Paul before we mentioned any names. But my thinking is that a second division club can't afford to say anybody is untouchable."

"The Orioles have good pitching in Billy O'Dell, Jack Harshman, Arnold Portocarrero, Milt Pappas, Hector Brown, Hoyt Wilhelm and the others. They don't have too much power but, remember, Baltimore has a big ball park."

MacPhail said the Oriles might be able to plug a hole in the upcoming baseball draft.

MacPhail started his baseball career at Reading, Pa., as business manager in 1941.

Three Share Lead In Atlanta Open

ATLANTA (AP)—J. C. Goosie, a personable youngster, Chick Harbert, an old pro, and Bill Collins, a full-time tour player, shot 4-under-par 68s to share the first round lead in the $25,000 Atlanta Open golf tournament Wednesday.

One stroke back of the leaders at 69 was tall Tony Lema, 24-year-old ex-Marine from Napa, Calif. Lema is a candidate for freshman honors this year.

Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., the 1958 Masters champ and leading money winner of the year, shot a creditable 37-33—70. Palmer, a pre-tournament favorite, also shot an eagle on the popular 15th hole and in addition had 4 birdies, 9 pars and 4 bogies.

Also shooting 70s were Gay Brewer, Paradise, Fla.; Walter Burkemo, Franklin, Mich.; Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.; Ernie Vossler, Midland, Tex.; and Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill.

Big Eight Next For NU Harriers

Missouri nipped the Huskers Saturday 27-28, although Joe Mullins was the individual winner.

Mullins, a junior, ran the 3 miles in 15:01.6, a course record, finishing 6 yards ahead of Jim Sanders of Missouri.

The other 6 runners to represent the Cornhuskers will be Joe American Horse, Bill Melody, Ken Ash, Frank Morrison, Knolly Barnes and Jerry Marples.

Promoter Not 'Dinkum' With Elliott

New York (AP) — Sports illustrated said Wednesday Australia's record mile runner, Herb Elliott, decided to remain an amateur when American promoter Leo Leavitt failed to back up a $250,000 pro offer with money in the bank.

The weekly magazine said Elliott and his father, Herb Elliott Sr., decided to end negotiations with Leavitt when the American didn't live up to an agreement to place $67,200 in escrow.

According to the story in the Nov. 10 issue, the Elliotts, from their home town of Perth, telephoned Leavitt, who was in Tokyo.

Here's the way conversation went, according to Sports Illustrated:

"This discussion must be treated in the strictest secrecy," opined Elliott senior, Agreed, said Leo.

"We feel that as a matter of equity we must ask you to place 30,000 pounds ($67,200) into our solicitor's bank account in escrow for Herb, to be paid him if he accepts this offer," said Elliott Senior.

Herb passed his father a note: "Tell him it will prove him dinkum (OK)."

Leavitt said that we would fly straight to Perth to clinch the deal.

The article added that when Leavitt failed to turn up on schedule and no word was forthcoming about his whereabouts, "Herb decided Leo wasn't dinkum after all." The runner then called a press conference in Perth and announced that he was remaining an amateur.

Johnny Blood Loses Election

New Richmond, Wis. (AP)—John V. McNally, who as the irrrepressible Johnny Blood helped write pro football history with the Green Bay Packers and the Pittsburgh Steelers, lost out in a bid to become sheriff of St. Croix County.

McNally, running as a Republican, trailed Norman E. Anderson, a Democrat, 6,200 to 2,810 in final unofficial returns.

As Blood, a name he selected, he tried his hand at almost everything. Besides being a great football player, the colorful McNally was a coach, author, philosopher, hotel clerk and poet.

Index Tabs Army-Rice Tilt As This Week's Top Thriller

By Dick Dunkel

Like John Foster Dulles, college football moves from crisis to crisis and this week's chief thriller ought to be Army's collision with the surprising Rice Owls, at Houston.

After losing early games to high ranking LSU and Purdue, the Owls, now 4-2, have rapidly regained stature. At present they're seventh in the Dunkel Ratings, with 106.8. Army rates only 3.5 points higher, in fourth place.

No. 1 Iowa (111.8), roaring along the Rose Bowl road, stands 30 points over its Saturday opponent, Minnesota (82.2).

Other national leaders show the following rating pars over Saturday's rivals:

LSU 18 over Duke.
Purdue 8 over Ohio St.
Northwestern 5 over Wis.
Oklahoma 30 over Iowa St.
Auburn 20 over Miss. St.

Dunkel Ratings are a continuous index of scoring difference relative to rating of opposition. The higher rating team has won in 74.9 percent of 1,348 games, omitting ties, covered to date.

In other big games the rating pars are:

East—Syracuse 20 over Boston U. (Fri.); Notre Dame 3 over Pitt, Navy 4 over Maryland, Holy Cross 32 over Colgate, Rutgers 22 over Lafayette.

Midwest — Illinois 10 over Michigan, Mich. State 12 over Indiana, Colorado 7 over Missouri, Tulsa 7 over Cincinnati.

South—Florida State 15 over Miami (Fri.); Alabama 8 over Tulane (Fri.); Mississippi 7 over Houston, Penn State 9 over W. Virginia, N. Carolina 26 over Virginia, Florida 7 over Georgia, Ga. Tech 7 over Clemson, Vanderbilt 2 over Kentucky.

Southwest — TCU 28 over Marquette, SMU 18 over Texas A & M, Texas 4 over Baylor, Arkansas 7 over H-S.

Far West — Air Force 33 over Denver, California 10 over UCLA, So. Calif. 13 over Washington, Wash. State 4 over Oregon State, Oregon 2 over Stanford.

Harassed Grid Seer Picks Army, Notre Dame, Wisconsin

By Will Grimsley

New York (AP)—Too bad there's no two-way option for the harassed football seer. Can't pick and run. Can't pass. Just a headlong plunge.

As for the customers, they only kick.

Last week's score: 38-18 for .679, despite upset choices of Northwestern, Syracuse, Penn and Tulsa.

Another fling:

Louisiana State 25, Duke 7: the Tigers don't heed Coach Paul Dietzel's advice to "let's be humble."

Army 19, Rice 15: Bob Anderson and Pete Dawkins have too much speed, but inspired Owls make it a battle.

Notre Dame 20, Pitt 14: George Izo's spark ignites an already great team, but Pitt will prove tough.

Southern California 28, Washington 7: the Trojans, too late, have finally jelled into one of the west's best.

Iowa 30, Minnesota 7: Winless Gophers weakened by injuries.

Wisconsin 18, Northwestern 13: the dream must burst some time for the Wildcats' cloud-riding sophomores.

Auburn 7, Mississippi State 0: the Plainsmen, on a 20-game unbeaten streak, don't score much but neither do their foes.

Air Force 32, Denver 7: unbeaten and unnoticed, the Airman have matured quickly. A fine, tough team.

Ohio State 20, Purdue 13: the Boilermakers have been wrecking our score all season, why stop now?

Washington State 14, Oregon State 6: two of the Rose Bowl contenders mix it up; Cougars picked on home field.

The others:

Friday

Syracuse 21 Boston U. 7; Alabama 14 Tulane 12; Florida State 13 Miami 6.

Saturday

East—Cornell 20 Brown 7; Navy 33 Maryland 14; Yale 13 Penn 7; Boston College 18 Detroit 7; Dartmouth 36 Columbia 6; Holy Cross 33 Colgate 0; Rutgers 25 Lafayette 14.

Midwest—Missouri 14 Colorado 7; Michigan State 24 Indiana 7; Kansas 7 Nebraska 0; Oklahoma State 18 Kansas State 14; Oklahoma 43 Iowa State 0; Michigan 20 Illinois 13; Tulsa 19 Cincinnati 7; Villanova 20 Dayton 6; North Texas State 14 Wichita 7.

South—Florida 13 Georgia 12; Vanderbilt 25 Kentucky 13; North Carolina 30 Virginia 0; West Virginia 20 Penn State 18; Tennessee 18 Chattanooga 0; South Carolina 24 Furman 0; North Carolina State 15 Mississippi Southern 0; Virginia Tech 23 Richmond 7; VMI 28 Lehigh 13; William & Mary 18 Davidson 6; The Citadel 21 Presbyterian 0.

Sunset Friday: 5:16 p.m.

Legal shooting hours—one-half hour before sunrise to sunset for all game regulated by the Nebraska Game Commission.

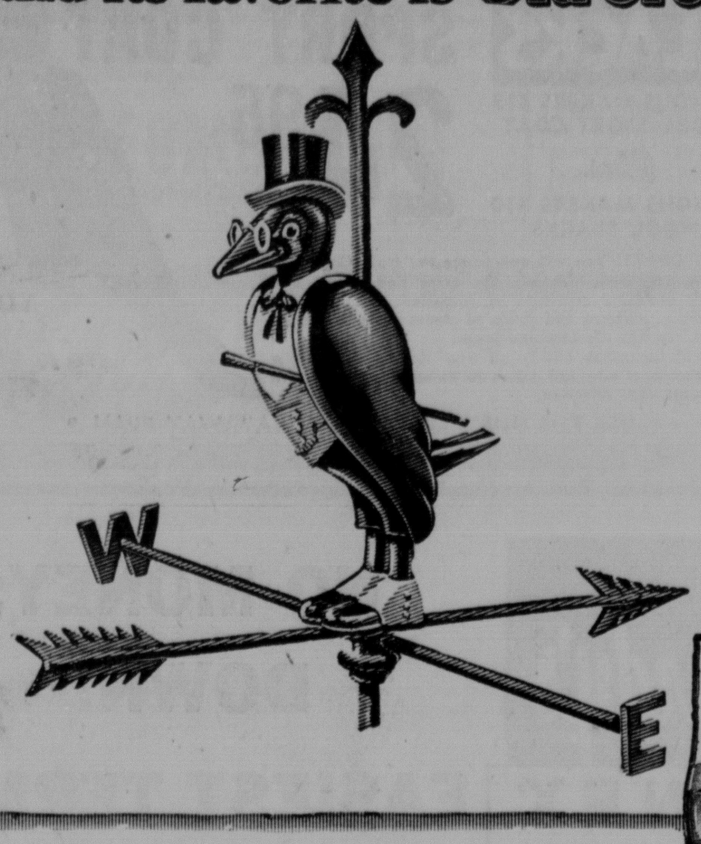
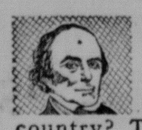
America knows its bourbon and its favorite is Old Crow



Light, mild 86 proof Old Crow by far outsells any bourbon in the land



Why does one bourbon outsell every other bourbon in the country? The answer is: Americans know their bourbon. They always have. A century ago, Daniel Webster flatly called Old Crow... "the finest in the world."

Webster, Henry Clay, Mark Twain—giants of history—all prized Old Crow. Today their number is multiplied by the millions. The lightness, mildness and incomparable flavor of 86 Proof Old Crow truly make it "the finest Kentucky whiskey ever put into glass!"

Rockefeller Stuck To State Issues

New York (AP) — In the midst of his campaign for governor, Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller side-stepped Democrat Averell Harriman's challenge to an all-out debate embracing national and International issues.

Rockefeller insisted on sticking strictly to state issues and an aide told a reporter in an off-the-record remark at the time:

"We're not going to be responsible for the mistakes of the Eisenhower administration."

Later, President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard Nixon came into New York to campaign. Rockefeller shook hands with them, but neither appeared on his campaign platform.

Half Million Votes

Running the campaign in his own way, Rockefeller won the New York governorship by half a million votes over Harriman. The total vote, exceeding 5,675,000 was a record for a non-presidential election in New York.

Complete unofficial returns gave Rockefeller, a political novice, 3,117,864 votes to 2,560,802 for Harriman.

Rockefeller's smashing maiden victory projected him into the national political picture.

At 50, the personable, hard campaigning multimillionaire will certainly be taken seriously as a presidential possibility.

Rockefeller may find himself taking on Vice President Nixon at the 1960 nominating convention. Or he may prefer to bide his time until 1964 or 1968—he'll only be 60 years old 10 years hence.

'Job Ahead'

Rockefeller maintained he's not aiming for national consideration in 1960. He told reporters:

"It honestly doesn't enter my mind except when you fellows ask about it. I have a tremendous job ahead of me, particularly the economic growth of New York state."

In the 1st flush of victory Rockefeller declared:

"Believe me, boys I haven't given a thought to 1960. I really am not interested."

Rockefeller may say he isn't interested but jubilant Republicans at his victory headquarters set up an immediate chant of "Rocky for President . . . . Rockefeller in 1960."

Rockefeller carried all but one member of his state ticket into office with him.

Cystic Fibrosis Research Grant To Dr. Gibbs Of NU

Omaha—Dr. Gordon Gibbs of the University of Nebraska College of Medicine is working under an $11,026 grant from the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

Dr. Gibbs

Dr. Gibbs, who is chairman of the Department of Pediatrics, is a pioneer in the research of cystic fibrosis of the pancreas, a disease previously thought to be rare because of incorrect diagnosis.

According to Dr. Gibbs, his new work in the field is "aimed at getting at the basic nature of the disease."

Dr. Gibbs and his associates are studying sweat with an electron microscope and purifying mucus by splitting the enzyme from a cholera organism to digest the mucus in the respiratory passages of the lungs.

A native of California, Dr. Gibbs received his bachelor's degree from the University of Redlands and his master and doctor's degrees from the University of California.

Formerly associate professor of clinical pediatrics research at the University of Maryland, Dr. Gibbs has devised a double lumen tube for use in diagnosis of fibrocystic disease.

School Boards Divided Evenly

Nearly half of the school boards replying to the State Education Department's request for their sentiments as to acceptance or rejection of federal school aid funds favored acceptance, State Education Commissioner Freefan Decker said Wednesday.

Decker said that of the 49 school boards heard from, 23 favored acceptance, 19 opposed acceptance and 7 were unable to decide on the merits of the federal money for use in Nebraska schools.

The State Board of Education will decide Dec. 2 whether or not Nebraska will use the proffered funds.

WEATHER AHEAD

Nebraska temperatures will average about 5 degrees above normal for the next 5 days with cool at the beginning but warmer over the week end. Normal afternoon highs range from near 50 to the middle 50s; normal morning lows from the middle 20s to the middle 30s. Little if any precipitation is expected.

McGinley's Win Astonishing

By Don Walton

Young State Sen. Don McGinley, Ogallala rancher-attorney, pulled the most astonishing upset in Tuesday's election when he won his race in the vast 38-county Fourth Congressional District.

All the 38-year-old two-term legislator did was knock off 8-term Republican Rep. A. L. Miller of Kimball, dean of the Nebraska congressional delegation.

For 16 years, since way back in 1942, Miller had brushed aside Democratic foes with ease. He had traveled the huge district more than a dozen times during that period.

Won 2-1 In 1956

He carried a 1956 margin of nearly 40,000 votes (a 2 to 1 victory) into the fray.

McGinley hammered away at Miller's agricultural policies and his "inconsistent" views on Secretary of Agricultural Ezra Taft Benson, fought off a Miller-imposed labor issue which he termed "a smokescreen to hide the real issues."

The young legislator traveled 25,000 miles across the district presenting his case.

The verdict came thumping home Tuesday, sweeping Miller out of office and carrying Don McGinley to Washington.

First Demo Since 1936

McGinley will be the first Democrat elected to represent his district since 1936.

Contacted at his home in Ogallala, the freshman congressman was jubilant.

He read a wire from Miller congratulating him on "a well-planned campaign."

"You will find this a challenge and an honor," Miller wrote.

McGinley replied with thanks. "Your many terms of service to and distinction from the Fourth District will not be matched for a long time," he write.

McGinley, operating on 3 hours sleep Wednesday, confessed he hoped to rest a bit before he embarks on a new career handed him in most astonishing fashion.

"I guess the people were ready for a change," Miller told newsmen from Grand Island. He pointed to "general unrest" and hard Democratic work for his defeat.

Big Vote Surprise As Brock Evens Score

In a result in which the margin was far more surprising than the victory, Wakefield cattle feeder Larry Brock, 52, evened an old score.

By more than 10,000 votes, the Democratic nominee smashed Republican Rep. Robert Harrison's 7-year hold on his congressional seat.

It was a rematch of the 1956 thriller which Harrison won by 246 mail vote ballots.

This time, Brock had predicted, it won't take a mail vote to decide the winner.

He was right.

'Weary But Happy'

Contacted at his home in Wakefield, the former Democratic state chairman said:

"My family and I are very happy . . . weary but happy.

"It will be a great responsibility serving the people of the Third District in the Congress of the United States.

"I shall need the guidance and counsel of all the people of this district. I thank the many hundreds of volunteer workers, and especially my staff."

Functioning on no sleep Wednesday, the new congressman was already at work on legislative matters.

He had been in contact with constituents throughout most of the day.

Best Wishes Wired

Harrison, seeking a fourth term, wired Brock congratulations and best wishes to "your fine family."

"Happiness in your new venture," Harrison wrote.

Brock took the agricultural issue to the voters of his district in his 1958 bid for election.

He pointed to farm woes, rising costs of farm machinery and depleting farm supports and markets.

He faced the burden of a lush record corn crop, which might place voter satisfaction in the path to victory.

But, Brock asked constituents to consider the past and he pointed to a shaky agricultural future.

Farmers responded — in overwhelming numbers.

Plans Indefinite

Contacted at his Norfolk home, Harrison said his future plans remain indefinite.

He hinted a position with the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Washington may be in the offing.

Harrison will receive partial pension from the government, having served more than 5 years in the House.

"Naturally the results . . . are terribly disappointing to me," Harrison said.

"I do not know why the vote in Nebraska . . . went the way it did.

"If I had it all to do again, I don't know what I could do to change the results. It was my hardest campaign.

"I am proud so many friends did so much in behalf of my campaign. I will always be grateful to them and to the many others who voted for me."

Brock plans a week's vacation in a few days — probably in the South.

Stromsburg Lad, 4, Found Dead; Dog Stands By

Lincoln Star Special

Stromsburg, Neb. — Four-year-old Teddy McBeth was found dead Wednesday morning in a stubble field about 3½ miles northeast of his home with his pet terrier dog, Sandy, standing guard.

The youngster, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal McBeth who reside on a farm 3 miles east of Stromsburg, was the object of an extensive search Tuesday afternoon and most of the night after he was reported missing at noon.

Reed Nelson, Stromsburg chief of police, and Claude James, also of Stromsburg, discovered the child's body. Death was believed due to exposure as the youngster was clad only in a light T-shirt and blue jeans.

Nelson immediately administered artificial respiration without success. Then the child was rushed to a Stromsburg doctor, but efforts were in vain to revive the youngster, who probably died shortly before his rescuers arrived, Nelson believes.

Some 600 volunteers from Osceola, Polk, Benedict and Stromsburg joined Chief Nelson and the Highway Patrol officers in searching for the boy Tuesday night.

Light planes were also used in the search Wednesday.

Chief Nelson said the boy's dog probably spent the night near the lost youngster.

The McBeths have two other children, a daughter, Cynthia, and another son, Steve.

Woman Hunter Hurt

Hastings, Neb.—Mrs. Frank Schlichtman, 19, suffering a serious gunshot wound in her lower leg while she was hunting with her husband near Spring Ranch in Clay County, has been transferred to an Omaha hospital.

Peter Sandoz, 77, 'Old Jules' Kin, Dies At Alliance

Alliance, Neb. — Peter A. Sandoz, 77, retired rancher, died in an Alliance hospital.

Born in Bern, Switzerland, he came to the U.S. with his parents in 1890 and the family homesteaded on the Niobrara River. He came to Alliance in 1900 and lived here until 1904 when he and his bride homesteaded on a ranch 30 miles north of Ellsworth.

Mr. Sandoz retired in 1948 and moved to Alliance.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Wilma Carter of Des Moines, Ia., and Mrs. Lillian Whitlock of Alliance; 4 grandchildren, 6 great-grandchidren, 3 brothers and two sisters.

Mr. Sandoz was a cousin of the late Jules Sandoz.

Stillwater, Okla. (AP) — Richard Marquardt of Oklahoma State University hunts geese with a cannon. A graduate student, Marquardt uses the cannon to fire nets over the birds so he can capture and tag them. He's working on a project to learn more of the birds' migrating habits.

Concentration

Dayton, Ohio (AP) — Police said Elwood Skaggs was concentrating on the 6 pockets of a pool table until an onlooker cued him in on a 7th one. Told to check his rear pocket by a man watching the game, police said Skaggs, 27, told them he found someone had cut it and removed his wallet with $146.

Stanton Delaplane's POSTCARD

In the early Mexican morning, I checked out of my Mexico crazy house hotel. (The Hotel de Cortez was a convent, dedicated to the care of Mexico city's insane. However, on me it looks good.)

Out at Mexico's glass-and-steel airport, the paecocks were preening the thin morning sun. Whenever a plane went over, they spread their flossy tails.

I checked in my bags, went over to the bank and sold my pesos for American dollars. Then we all went out and got on Western Airline's champagne flight to Los Angeles.

☆ ☆ ☆

The plane rises over Lake Texcoco. All that is left of the great Aztec lake that surrounded the City of Mexico when Cortez marched over the mountains.

You can see the outlines of the lake quite clearly.

It stretched several miles out to high ground. The city was supplied by canoes that came through canals. Right to the central square of Mexico.

There great causeways led across the lake.

This whacking amount of water soaked the ground under Mexico City. Like a sponge.

The Spaniards drained the lake to get more real estate.

This was all right so long as Mexico was built only two stories high. But in these modern days, they build skyscrapers. When they build a skyscraper, it pushes down on the ground, no longer buoyed up by soaked-up water.

All the buildings within the block are then tilted toward the heavier building. They sag and crack. The tenants sue each other.

Now they are talking about refilling the lake. So that the water will soak under the city again. Otherwise, Mexico City will always lean toward the heaviest building.

☆ ☆ ☆

Down through the haze, you could see Mexico City — 4,000,000 people spread over the new developments on the old lake bed.

The two volcanoes were on top of the clouds. The white snow peak of Popocatepetl and the long snow slope of the Sleeping Woman.

The city, itself, was hazed lightly. Mexico City is in the great valley of Anahuac and has a smog problem. Just like any other modern city.

☆ ☆ ☆

After awhile, Captain Jerry Keeley came back. He said we were flying over Queretaro. From there we would fly north to Durango in the northern deserts.

Then we would cross to the coast and over Tiajuana to Los Angeles.

There was a big ad in the Mexico City papers that Western would start tourist flights to Mexico: only $79 one way, starting in December.

27 Incumbents Return To Unicam; Dean Of Solons Trails; 3 In Doubt

By Betty Person

With the races of 3 state senators still in doubt, it appeared Wednesday that at least 27 legislators from the 1957 session would answer the roll call for the 69th session of the Legislature when it convenes in Lincoln Jan. 6.

Two familiar faces from previous sessions, Richard D. Marvel of Hastings in the 31st Dist., and H. K. Diers of Gresham, in the 24th Dist., also will serve again in the Legislature.

Marvel ousted Sen. Kathleen Foote of Axtell in a hard-fought contest, and Diers continued his primary election victory over Dwight Walkup after the two bested incumbent Fay Wood in the primary.

The dean of the Legislature, Sen. Charles Tvrdik of Omaha, who has served in the Unicameral since the day of its inception, was trailing his opponent, William Skarda Jr. by 74 votes with all precincts reporting. The mail vote in the district apparently will hold the answer to this race.

With a few precincts remaining to be counted in the 40th District, Sen. D. J. Cole of Merriman was trailing his opponent Earl Hollenbeck of Long Pine by 200 votes, with indications that Cole would be replaced.

In the 21st District, Sen. Willard Waldo of DeWitt was deadlocked with his opponent George Fulton of Beatrice, each receiving 3,979 votes with all precincts reporting. Again, the mail vote apparently will hold the kay to a race.

The Legislature had lost a woman senator with the defeat of Sen. Foote, but apparently had gained one when Mrs. Fern Hubbard Orme of Lincoln held a comfortable margin of 681 votes over Don Devries in the 20th District.

In the 3rd District, Edwin T. McHugh of Murdock, who had been out of the race from May 13 to Oct. 13 after defeat in the primary, came back to win over H. L. Gayer of Papillion after McHugh's name went on the ballot upon the death of Sen. Tom Dooley Oct. 12.

In addition to Mrs. Foote, the only other incumbent definitely defeated in the general election was Sen. Mervin Bedford of Geneva, who was swamped by Joe Vosoba of Wilber.

Voters In 5 States Refuse To Curb Union Powers

APPROVAL GIVEN ONLY IN KANSAS

Washington (AP)—Voters generally refused by heavy majorities to curb the power of unions or impose new taxes, in statewide referendum votes across the country.

In Louisiana, a pro-segregation amendment to the state constitution authorizing creation of a private school system with public funds had rolled up a 3 to 1 lead.

New bonds for roads, schools, housing and other improvements found good acceptance generally. But Illinois apparently had scuttled a one-cent-a-pack boost in the cigaret tax to finance a 75 million bond issue to pay bonuses to Korean War veterans.

Labor was victorious in 5 of the 6 states where right-to-work proposals were the hottest measures on the ballot.

The prohibition against union shop agreements, under which workers must join unions to keep their jobs, was scuttled by overwhelming majorities in California, Ohio, Washington and Colorado and by a narrow margin in Idaho.

But in Kansas the right-to-work was endorsed as thumpingly as it was rejected in the industrial states. The Kansas vote increased to 19 the number of right-to-work states.

Unionists, however, hailed the election returns, including the Democratic sweep in the House and Senate, as signaling a turning of the right-to-work tide.

Labor now has enough friends in Congress, some claimed, to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act section which permits states to adopt right-to-work amendments to their state constitutions. Union strategists said repeal would be sought in the 86th Congress, along with a higher minimum wage, improved unemployment compensation and other union-favored causes.

Unionists had attacked the right-to-work proposals as attempts at union-wrecking. They poured work and money into their campaign to defeat it.

. . . ex-Nebraskan triumphs

McGee Wins Senate Seat . . . In Wyoming

Cheyenne, Wyo. (AP) — Gale McGee, handsome 43-year-old University of Wyoming history professor, defeated Sen. Frank A. Barrett (R-Wyo) in a nip and tuck election race.

Joseph J. Hickey, 46-year-old Cheyenne attorney, unseated Republican Gov. Milward L. Simpson in another close contest as Democrats made their biggest political triumph in Wyoming since the New Deal days.

Rep. Keith Thomson (R-Wyo) was the only top Republican incumbent to avoid the Democratic sweep.

Son Of Nebraskans

McGee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McGee of Norfolk, Neb. He is a graduate of the University of Wyoming.

Cattle, Hog Commercial Slaughter Up

Nebraska's commercial slaughter totaled 246,286,000 pounds live weight during September, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics has reported.

Increases in cattle and hog slaughter offset the decrease in slaughter in other species. The September estimate was 10% above the 223,227,000 pounds slaughtered in September a year ago and compared with 223,941,000 pounds slaughtered in August.

An estimated 317,000 hogs were killed in Nebraska during September, the same number slaughtered a year ago in September. The September estimate was 39,000 head above the August kill. Hogs averaged 238 pounds live weight, 15 pounds heavier than a year ago but 8 pounds lighter than last month's average.

164,000 Head

Nebraska's cattle slaughter totaled 164,000 head in September compared with 147,000 a year ago, and 152,000 head killed in August of this year. The average live weight of 1,004 pounds was 21 pounds heavier than a year ago.

Calf slaughter totaled 800 head, the smallest September slaughter on record for the state. This compared with 2,200 head slaughtered a year ago and 800 slaughtered in August. The average live weight at 330 pounds was 46 pounds lighter than a year ago.

Sheep and lamb slaughter totaled 60,000 head for September, as compared with 74,000 head killed a year ago in September. The average live weight at 98 pounds was 3 pounds heavier than a year earlier.

Political Spotlight Shifted To Brown

. . . He Easily Defeated Sen. Knowland

San Francisco (AP) — National political attention, long lavished on California's high-ranking Republicans, shifted today to Gov.-Elect Edmund G. Brown and the Democrats he led to victory Tuesday.

The hustling mild-mannered attorney general climbed into the giant-killer class by his resounding defeat of Republican Sen. William F. Knowland.

The Democratic surge carried Rep. Cliar Engle of Red Bluff to the U.S. Senate over GOP Gov. Goodwin J. Knight. Democrats gained one congressman for sure, and were leading in 3 other Republican-held districts. They could control the House delegation by the same majority the Republicans had — 17-13.

With his margin rolling impressively toward better than one million votes, Brown was quickly singled out by Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler for a place in the national political sun.

"I do not mean Pat Brown will be nominated (for President) in 1960 or that he will seek the nomination," Butler said in Washington. "I have no idea what he has in mind, although I assume people automatically will start talking about him for the presidency."

Brown has disavowed any national ambitions. Early in his campaign for governor, he made a categorical statement that he wouldn't seek the vice presidential bid nor would he serve if elected.

Knowland's defeat removed him from serious consideration in the GOP presidential race. It also left Vice President Nixon in an uneasy position with the loss of his home state to the Democrats.

TESTIMONY SUMMARIZED

Here is a summary of the 150-minute testimony of convicted killer Charles Starkweather at Wednesday's session of the Caril Fugate murder trial in Lancaster District Court:

He said he borrowed his brother Rodney's .22 rifle Jan. 21, went home and cleaned up and went over to the Bartletts. He said he stayed about 30 minutes, left and drove around the block several times and returned.

Starkweather declared that while there the second time Marion Bartlett kicked him "in the behind" so he left. He said he then went to Hutson's Grocery at 1172 Belmont, phoned Watson Bros. Transportation Co. where Bartlett worked and said Bartlett was ill and would not be to work.

The 5-5 redhead then said he returned again to the Bartlett home and waited on the back porch for Caril to come home from school. He said Caril came home, went into the house and got into an argument with her mother.

Slapped Him

Starkweather said he then went inside again, that Mrs. Bartlett slapped him, Mr. Bartlett came in and that he got into a fight with and shot Bartlett. He said he did not know if Caril was in the room at this time but that she was in the house somewhere.

But Starkweather said when he next shot Mrs. Bartlett and threw a knife at Betty Jean, Caril was in the room at the time.

He said after wrapping the bodies in blankets and roofing paper he put them in the sheds behind the house. He said Caril watched television while he did this.

Starkweather said he walked to the home of his aunt, Mrs. Elsie Neal at 923 South, on Jan. 22 and again on Jan. 24, leaving Caril behind and not tied up at the Bartlett home. He said he stayed several hours on each visit.

Left Caril

He also said he went to Hutson's Grocery again several times, each time leaving Caril behind at the home.

Starkweather said he and Caril left the home about 9:30 a.m. Jan. 27 after Mrs. Bartlett's mother, Mrs. Pansy Street, had come to the house but having been refused admittance said she was going to get the police because she knew he "was in there."

He said they drove to Crest Service Station at 1545 Cornhusker and then to a station "near 17th and High" (according to Tuesday testimony of the station's former operator the station was actually at 17th and Burnham). He said he got pop and used the rest room while Caril waited in the car as its transmission was checked on the grease rack.

Got Stuck

Next, Starkweather said, he and Caril went to Tate's, got more gas, bought hamburgers, .22 rifle shells and .410 shotgun shells and headed for Bennet. They got stuck in the east-west lane leading to the August Meyer farm so walked to the farm on foot.

While at the farm Starkweather said he shot Meyer. They then returned to the stuck car and with the help of a passing farmer got the car free.

Starkweather said they then again drove to Tate's, bought gas and returned to the Meyer farm. But this time, he said, they got stuck in the north-south lane into the farm, left the car and went on foot to the site of a razed rural school nearby.

Offered Help

He said he and Caril were walking along the road that night (Jan. 27) when Robert Jensen, 17, and Carol King, 16, both of Bennet, drove up in Jensen's car. He said they asked for a ride into Bennet to get help to free their stuck car.

Starkweather said Jensen grabbed hold of the barrel of the rifle he was carrying as they got into the car's back seat, but that he told Jensen it wasn't loaded.

He said Caril also told Jensen "We don't walk around with loaded guns."

Starkweather said they drove into Bennet, and that after becoming suspicious he ordered Jensen to drive toward Lincoln. He said he told Jensen "Do as we tell you before somebody gets hurt."

While heading toward Lincoln Starkweather said he changed his mind and told Jensen to drive to the school site. He said while in the car Miss King turned around and thanked him for "not being mean to them."

Told Her to 'Shut Up'

Starkweather said this apparently made Caril Fugate mad and Caril told Miss King to "shut up."

He said while in the Jensen car he asked Jensen if he had a billfold. Starkweather said Jensen held it up and Caril Fugate took it, took currency from it and placed it in Starkweather's billfold.

Then, he said, Caril gave the Jensen billfold to Miss King.

Caril, he said, had the sawed-off .410 shotgun in her possession at the time.

'Came Back Up'

Upon arrival at the school site he said he ordered Jensen and Miss King from the car. He said he told Jensen to go down into the cellar, that he did but then "came back up" and so he shot him.

He said he told Miss King to wait and he went into the cave for a few minutes, then went to the Jensen car and reloaded the .22 rifle. He returned to the cave, he said, and told Miss King to go into it which she did.

Then, Starkweather said, he returned again to the Jensen car and started to drive off but slid into the ditch and got stuck.

Starkweather said he and Caril then went to the cave and told Miss King to come out which she did. He said he then gave his rifle to Caril, told her to watch Miss King and went back to the car.

At this point Scheele ceased questioning him about Miss King, and the details of how she was shot were not gone into.

Starkweather said before he and Caril left the cave they both put a door and boards over the cellar opening. He said while heading into Lincoln Caril threw Jensen's school books from the car.

They then drove west to near Hastings, turned around and drove back into Lincoln. Starkweather said he and Caril slept that night (Jan. 27-28) in the car while it was parked at 24th and Van Dorn.

Picked Ward Home

The morning of Jan. 28 they drove around south of Lincoln and Starkweather said Caril picked the Ward home to stop at.

The deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Ward and their housekeeper, Lilyan Fencl, were not gone into. But Starkweather said "most of the time" while at the Ward home he did not have a weapon in his possession.

He said Caril answered a phone call about 7:30 p.m. (apparently from Mrs. Blanchard Anderson of 3500 So. 27th, who testified Tuesday she called the home at that time but was told by "a young voice" Mrs. Ward was asleep).

Put Polish On Hair

Starkweather said that Caril helped him put on shoe polish to disguise his hair while at the Ward home.

Starkweather said he and Caril left the Ward home in Ward's Packard the night of Jan. 28 and drove west across Nebraska on State 2. He said they slept in the car several hours between Mullen and Ellsworth.

Several times they stopped at service stations, he testified, and he went into the stations leaving Caril and all the guns in the car. He said he had a knife in his boot.

Starkweather said while driving through Douglas, Wyo., a police car followed them for several blocks. This was the only reference to the events in Wyoming, where the pair was captured Jan. 29.

Lumber Yard Blaze Loss At $120,000

Holdrege, Neb. (AP) — A spectacular fire, fanned by strong northwest winds, destroyed the Perry Lumber Co. here.

Ernest Perry, owner, estimated the loss at $100,000 to $120,000. He said the figure included $70,000 to $80,000 for the contents.

It was the second time in a little over two years that the lumber firm was burned out. On Sept. 22, 1956, the firm burned at another location in Holdrege and the yard was moved to is present location.

The cause of the fire was not determined, but firemen said it apparently started in the front of the building, in the paint department. The blaze was discovered by passersby.

Fire departments from Funk, Loomis, Kearney, Alma and Elm Creek assisted Holdrege firemen.

The fire knocked out the power to most of the city during the night.

The sparks were blown to the Burlington docks, south of the lumber yard, where a few minor fires were started. They were quickly extinguished.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unequalled rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43¢.

Demo Wins Push Stocks To '58 Highs

New York (AP) — The stock market rose to a new high and made one of the year's biggest gains Wednesday in the wake of Democratic victory at the polls.

Key stocks rose from fractions to around 2 points generally but there were wider gains.

Wall Street had anticipated Democratic success but the event itself seemed to convince the investing public that the country is in for greater spending by the government. Remarks by President Eisenhower once again linked Democrats with free spending.

Motors led the early upturn and were joined by steels, rubbers, farm implements, utilities, drugs and most oils. A mixed pattern prevailed among aircrafts, chemicals and electronics.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $2.20 to a new record of $201.40. The gain matched last Wednesday's and was topped this year only by the rise of $2.40 on Jan. 3.

Based on the gain in the AP average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange rose an estimated $2,798,000,000.

The 1,255 issues traded made it the broadest market since Oct. 22, 1957. A total of 747 issues rose and 299 fell. There were 136 new highs for the year and 6 new lows.

Volume was 4,080,000 shares compared with 3,240,000 on Monday.

American Stock Exchange prices advanced on volume of 1,410,000 shares compared with 1,320,000 on Monday.

Corporate bonds declined in fairly active trading. U.S. government bonds were slightly higher in over the counter dealings.

Corporate bond trading mounted to $8,075,000 par value on the big board, largest since Sept. 23. This compared with $6,290,000 on Monday.

GRAIN GAINS FADE AT CLOSE

Chicago (AP) — The grain futures market whirled away to broad gains at the opening Wednesday of the Board of Trade but at the close there was scarcely any sign of the bullishness.

While prices were on the climb dealers said the Democratic sweep in Tuesday's election had provided most, if not all, the thrust. But after the gains had run to about 1½c a bushel in many contracts, profit takers took over and in less than two hours the bullishness had all but vanished.

However, many brokers persisted that the election results should tilt the market at least slightly to the bullish side over the long term. They contended that a new strongly controlled Democratic Congress is likely to favor more liberal agricultural legislation.

Wheat closed 1c a bushel lower to ⅝ higher, December $1.93⅝-¾; corn ⅜ higher to ½ lower, December old-type contract $1.11½-⅜; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, December .65-65¼; rye 1-1½c lower, December $1.30½-¾; soybeans ¼-⅝ lower, November $2.12⅜.
